Breaks Into Rites at St. Paul's.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—Historic St. Paul's cathedral was the scene of a sensational occurrence this morning. At 11 o'clock, the Rev. W. W. Barnes, bishop of Birmingham, whose recent utterances on evolution and the blessed sacrament had caused a considerable stir in English church circles, was solemnly denounced for his "false and heretical teaching."

The denunciation was made by the Rev. G. R. Bullock Webster, rector of one of the ancient city churches. Bishop Barnes ascended to the altar to deliver an address on "Man's Creation—Bible Mechanism or from God?" Canon Webster rose from his congregation, proceeded to the altar, accompanied by a number of prominent men, and in a loud voice read from a typewritten document.

Canon Webster was wearing a large white coat, but threw it off, disclosing his clerical robes. No attempt was made to interfere with him by any of the clergy, but he was followed by a considerable number of the congregation, to whom he had appealed to leave the church, as their ears should be devoted to the word of God.

The denunciation commenced, "In the name of God, amen." Then, he continued, in his own name and in behalf of "the faithful laity of this diocese."

Canon Webster's Denunciation.

"I solemnly denounce Ernest William Barnes, doctor of science and bishop of Birmingham, because by his false and heretical teaching in his frequent public utterances he has denied and poured contempt upon the doctrines and sacraments of the Holy Catholic church." Canon Webster declared.

After declaring the bishop's presence in any church was "an indignity to Almighty God and a scandal and offense to the faithful," the protest called upon the lord bishop of the diocese "to inhibit said bishop from preaching and ministering in any church within his jurisdiction; and further, we call upon the archbishop and bishops of the province of Canterbury to try said bishop in respect to his alleged heretical, profane utterances, and if he is found guilty, to remove him and cast him out of the church of God until such time as he has repented himself and recanted his grievous errors."

Bishop Barnes protested.

After the Rev. Mr. Webster and his supporters left the cathedral, Bishop Barnes delivered his sermon. He did not refer to the remarkable protest.

Bishop Barnes dealt with the forerunners of the world and evolution. He declared the sequence of natural processes which had led to man's creation could legitimately be interpreted as God's word.

"Evolution became simply God's method of creating, but man's first reason, the gorilla, about which we have heard so much of late, is hardly a creature of sweetness and grace," the bishop said. "Man has shown us something more than the animal, and the importance of man in God's sight lies in the conduct of his life."

POINTS TO POLITICAL Situation.

An analysis of the table brings out several points of importance. In particular, Mr. Rex pointed out that the phenomenal growth of the outlying wards is creating an unbalanced political condition that may require re-apportionment in the near future.

For example, Ald. R. A. Woodhull [7th] now represents 114,000 people, while Ald. T. F. Moran [16th] represents only 55,554, less than half as many, although each had an equal vote in the city council.

1,040,205 GAIN IN SEVEN YEARS, FIGURES SHOW

41st Ward Tops All for Increase.

Chicago's present population is 3,741,910, according to an estimate made public yesterday by Frederick Rex, municipal librarian. The government census of 1920 gave the city a total of 3,701,705 inhabitants, making the increase in seven years 1,040,205 if Mr. Rex's estimate is correct.

Using the increase in the number of registered voters as his basis, Mr. Rex found that the present population of the south side (wards 1 to 19) is 1,516,874; of the west side (wards 20 to 41) is 1,604,749; and of the north side (wards 42 to 50) is 620,287. In other words, the south and west sides each have about two-fifths of the total and the north side one-fifth.

In the estimate it is shown that the Forty-first ward, represented by Ald. Thomas J. Bowler, has made the greatest increase, and the Twenty-second ward, represented by Ald. Joseph Cepak, the least.

41st's Population Up 111%.

During the last six years the 41st ward, which lies in the extreme northwest corner of the city, has more than doubled in population, jumping from 49,440 in 1921 to 106,103 in 1927, a 111 per cent increase. In the same period, the 22d ward, on the southwest side, gained only 6 per cent. None of the city's 50 wards showed a decrease.

Aside from the 41st, the only ward to register a 100 per cent increase was the 7th, lying just south of Jackson park on the lake. This is now the city's largest ward, the figures show. Improved transportation, especially the Illinois electrification and widened boulevards, and a rapid growth of apartment hotels are credited for the 7th ward boom.

GIRL, 5, WOUNDED WHEN DRUGGIST FIRES AT THIEF

Victim of a bullet fired at a pair of fleeing bandits, little 5-year-old Jeanne Couglin, daughter of Dr. John P. Couglin, child's specialist, residing at 4450 North Richmond street, was reported as being hit by a bullet fired by a man who had escaped from a drug store.

Jeanne was taken to the Ravenswood hospital Saturday after J. H. Martin, druggist at 3055 Montrose avenue, had fired at two men who attempted to rob his store. The shot missed and lodged in the girl's back. Her father, too distraught to help in the fight to save his daughter's life, called in five other specialists to care for her.

Police learned that Jeanne was watching her little brother, John, at Montrose avenue and Sacramento boulevard, while her mother was shopping in a nearby store. The bullet fired by Martin traveled two blocks before striking the child.

The physicians called in consultation on the case were Dr. William Bellows, an uncle of Jeanne; Dr. Nelson Perry of the Angueta hospital; Dr. Al Link, and Drs. Darwin Pond and Louis French of the Ravenswood hospital.

Wealthy Youth Kidnaped, He Says; Escapes

After being absent for four hours early yesterday, J. Clarke Dean Jr., a young man well known in Chicago society, appeared at his hotel in a dazed condition and said he had escaped from four gunmen who had kidnapped him.

The first inkling that Dean, who is 22 years old, might be in trouble came in an anonymous telephone call to his father's home at 4 o'clock in the morning. In a rough voice the anonymous speaker said young Dean had been spirited away and announced that he would be released only on payment of $100,000 ransom by his father, J. Clarke Dean, wealthy board of trade operator.

"J. Clarke Dean Jr. of 233 East Walton place," the gruff voice said, "has been taken for a ride. His old man must dig up $100,000 to get him out."

Father Told of Message.

Mr. Dean was informed of this mysterious message. He called the De Witt hotel, 244 East Pearson street, where his son has been living for six months with his mother, Mr. Dean's divorced wife, Mrs. Audrey Dean. Mr. Dean learned the young man had gone out in evening dress with a party of seven friends to attend the Bal Tabarin opening. Mr. Dean continued to telephone from time to time and shortly before 8 o'clock he was informed that his son had returned to his apartment.

Tells of His Adventure.

When young Dean awoke from a heavy sleep early last evening he told of his capture and escape. Dean is a young man of powerful physique, standing 6 feet and weighing nearly 200 pounds. At Culver Military academy, which he left two years ago to work on the floor of the Board of Trade for the Rosenbaum Grain corporation, he was a boxer and football player. Lately he has been employed by Devoe, Inc., a direct mail advertising house with offices at 175 West Madison street.

Dean said he was seized by four armed men in an automobile while walking to his hotel after attending a party in the loop. The kidnappers took him to a dingy house on the far west side, after they had dazed him by a blow on the head, according to his story. He said he escaped from the place by climbing out a second story window.

From the house, he said, he ran across a vacant lot and three blocks farther, when he came to a through street and found a taxi which took him back to the hotel. The police said that apparently no investigation seemed necessary.

SPECIAL TRAIN SPEEDS WOMAN TO DYING SISTER

Mrs. Pauline Meyer Howell, 7708 Lake View avenue, wife of Thomas M. Howell, wealthy broker and grain operator, chartered a special train yesterday in a race to the bedside of her sister, Mrs. E. J. Faulkner, who was reported to be dying in Lincoln, Neb.

She hoped to cover the 515 miles to the Nebraska city in nine hours or less. Mrs. Howell received a telegram shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon telling of the critical illness of her sister. Her husband communicated with the officials of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad and at 2:25 Supr. J. P. Falk not the order to assemble the train. The engine, private car and coach, pulled off of the Union station at 2:13 o'clock.

Mrs. Howell, her two brothers, R. H. Meyer and Robert Meyer, and a sister-in-law, Mrs. R. H. Meyer, were passengers.

The 35 mile run to Aurora took 44 minutes, but the next lap of the trip, the 124 mile stretch from Aurora to Galeburg, Ill., was made in exactly two hours. Burlington, Ia., was reached at 6:40 o'clock, the 205 miles from Chicago having been covered in 207 minutes. Mrs. Howell hoped to see her sister shortly before midnight.

MRS. H. H. ROGERS RIDING IN AUTO WHICH KILLS BOY

St. Louis, N. Y., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—An automobile in which Mrs. H. H. Rogers, wife of Col. H. H. Rogers of the Standard Oil company, was riding from New York to her home at Tuxedo Park struck and killed a 6-year-old boy in front of his home at 6 o'clock last evening.

The boy was Paul King, son of Howard King, a garage employe. A coroner's inquest was held here this morning by Dr. J. William Gilne of the city, at which it was found that the death was an unavoidable accident.

Mrs. Rogers was present at the inquest, but did not testify. Through a representative, she paid the boy's father $500. Afterward she called at the dead boy's home, expressed her regret and sympathy to the mother, and left a wreath.

2,000 See Illinoisian Burn to Death in Cleveland Hotel

Cleveland, O., Oct. 16.—(AP)—Walter Van Horn, 32, Bloomington, Ill., was fatally burned in his second floor room at the Franklin hotel tonight while 2,000 persons watched futile efforts to rescue him. An explosion of undetermined origin transformed the room into a mass of flames. With escape cut off Van Horn ran to the window and shrieked for help. Firemen stretched a life net and Van Horn jumped but he had been burned so seriously that he died a short time later.

Hurls Victims to Road; Auto Crashes Pole

Two young girls were shot to death and tossed from an automobile early this morning in front of 3047 Rhodes avenue. Less than 100 yards away the body of Wilfred Winters, 21 years old, was found in the wreckage of the machine which had crashed into a telegraph pole. He had been shot through the head.

One of the girls was identified as Margaret Martin, 17 years old, of 7329 University avenue, employed as a stenographer by the Kraft Cheese company. A cab chauffeur made the first identification and later her father, William J. Martin, a metal worker, viewed the body.

The other was Miss Catherine Stadler, 19, of 1206 East 73d street, who was employed by the south side real estate firm of Wolf and Levin. Both girls had obtained office positions after their graduation from Bowen High school. When informed of her daughter's death, Mrs. Martin H. Stadler, wife of an Illinois Central locomotive engineer, collapsed.

No Motive for Slaying Known.

Parents of the young women were unable to assign any possible motive for the slaying. Winters had been a friend of the Martin family for years, Mr. Martin said, but no love affair was suspected between him and either of the girls. He was a close friend of Francis Martin, a brother of Margaret, police were informed.

Members of the Stadler family said Catherine left home at 1 o'clock in the evening to attend a dance at the Trianon ball room. She had planned to go with the Martin girl, they said.

Another Man Sought.

A fourth member of Winters' party was being sought by Chief of Detectives Michael Grady following information that Winters and another man, with the two girls, were arrested last night for speeding in Willow Springs. He had left them before the shooting, however. Grady said that from the stories told by two witnesses who saw them a few minutes before the bodies were found, the Martin girl was riding on the front seat with Catherine Stadler between her and Winters. Police believe the girls may have been remonstrating with him for driving fast, and that Miss Martin may have threatened to get out of the car. In a sudden fit of insanity, they think he may have killed the girls for finding fault with his driving.

Scratches on the Martin girl's arms indicated she put up a desperate battle to escape from the car and that she was shot while trying to get away.

Killed as Car Sped.

According to Lieut. James Day of the Brunside station, Winters is believed to have murdered the two girls and then turned the gun on himself. His car shot toward at high speed, the Osborn Frisbie, 3218 South Sangamon street, with a friend, James Jurka, 3301 South Aberdeen street, witnessed the crash of Winters' car.

"We were driving south on Rhodes avenue when suddenly we heard a shot in a machine approaching us about half a block distant," Frisbie said. "The car began to wobble and a man's body fell part way out of the open door. As we watched the car left the road and crashed with terrific force into a pole."

Laughing Before Tragedy.

Ogden Palmquist of 3004 Rhodes avenue was waiting at 90th and Cottage Grove avenue, fifteen minutes before the shooting, when Winters drove past him with the two girls, police were told. He identified the trio following their death.

"They were laughing and talking," Palmquist said. "I distinctly remember they didn't act like a man who was about to kill them and himself."

Identification of Winters, an ailing, unemployed young man, was made by his aunt, Mrs. Grace Mott, with whom the youth had been living at 7329 University avenue. The boy's grandfather and grandmother, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Winters, also reside at the Dante avenue address.

Gun on Floor of Car.

Winters' body was sprawled down in the front seat of the automobile, his head against the left side of the car, just below the window. A revolver was on the floor.

COOLIDGE SEEN PREPARING FOR ARMY SHAKEUP

Davis and MacNider Figure in Gossip.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
(Special Tribune Staff Writer.)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Official Washington is wondering whether there is to be a shakeup in the army and the war department as the result of presidential dissatisfaction with the conduct of affairs in that branch of his administration.

The resignation of Secretary of War Davis and Assistant Secretary of War MacNider would occasion little surprise in official circles, where it has been understood for some time that relations between the White House and the war department are not so harmonious as they might be.

Whether Maj. Gen. Charles P. Sumner, chief of staff of the army, is to be reprimanded or otherwise disciplined by his commander-in-chief, Mr. Coolidge, for reported utterances on the scandalously inadequate housing of American troops depends upon the outcome of a meeting of the two men which is expected to take place tomorrow.

Summoned from Western Trip.

The President summarily halted Gen. Sumnerall back from the Pacific coast, where he was on an inspection tour, presumably to explain quoted utterances critical of the administration in regard to the responsibility for the housing of troops in leaky barracks and tumbledown shacks.

Gen. Sumnerall reached Washington today, but was

$550,000 MORE NEEDED FOR NEW LYING-IN FUND

100 Solicitors to Start
Campaign Today.

The $550,000 already in hand to the $1,400,000 necessary for a new lying-in hospital on the Midway, Chicago Fairbanks and her 100 solicitors will set out today to collect the remaining $550,000 to complete their fund.

The women, in their intensive campaign of the city, plan to make a personal appeal to business men on the ground of the importance of a complete medical department, including a new obstetric hospital, for the University of Chicago, and also because of the service the hospital offers in its day department, where it cares for a minimum charge for the wives of young men starting in the profession or in business.

BALKAN PRESS ACCUSES ITALY OF DEATH PLOT

See Plan to Incite War by Envoy's Murder.

BY GEORGE SELDEN

(Copyright: 1927 by The Chicago Tribune.)

VIENNA, Austria, Oct. 16.—The capital of Jugoslavia and Czechoslovakia are seething with indignation against Italy as the result of the assassination of Zena Bey, Albanian minister to Prague, by a 17-year-old Albanian student, who was studying in Rome.

The foreign offices of both powers are holding conferences on the situation, while the press is engaged in the most violent campaign, charging that more assassinations are being planned for the purpose of inciting a new Balkan war.

A statement was created in Prague when a Sunday newspaper unequivocally published charges that Italy, by provoking war at all costs, that ferocious hands are being armed in Italy, while assassins from Rome are being sent to various places to assassinate enemies. It also was charged that the assassin, A. Babi, called at the Italian embassy the day before the murder and that the embassy knew of the plan.

Had Italian Passport, Claim.

The Belgrade police declare the records show young Babi traveled from Rome on an Italian passport in order to commit the crime and was aided in several capitals of Europe by sympathizers.

In Belgrade, the Albanian claim, Ahmed Zogu, president of Albania, was implicated, and say Zogu was jealous of the minister, who was his brother-in-law.

Victim Was Warned.

A letter written the day before the assassination by the victim arrived in Belgrade today. It thanked the Belgrade police for warning him of the assassin's plans and declared he had taken precautions. Vienna observers believe the recent Macedonian assassinations were closely allied with the Prague murder.

Assassin Faces Death.

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Oct. 16.—Agostino Babi, who assassinated the Albanian minister Zena Bey Thursday night, must stand trial in Czechoslovakia, since the extradition laws forbid the extradition of a person charged with murder. Since capital punishment still prevails here, authorities see little chance of the youthful assassin's escaping full punishment.

"This is not the last of these assassinations," is the remark attributed to the youth in talking with the police immediately after the shooting. "There are more coming."

BURGLARS FIND $1,200 SAM BLOOM CAREFULLY HIDE

Samuel Bloom, manager of the Deauville club at 71 West Randolph street, has so much respect for burglars that he takes extreme pains to outwit them. But he failed to outwit those who entered the place early yesterday.

Preparing to go home, he placed $200 in the safe. He didn't lock the safe door because, he explained later, he was so sure in having a nice safe blown to pieces. There was $1,200 more on hand and Mr. Bloom, believing that any burglar who entered would be satisfied with the $200, hid the larger amount in the cushions of a sofa.

He left the club at 5 a. m. Two hours later it was discovered that thieves had entered, stolen the $200 in the safe, and ripped open the cushions to get the $1,200.

ONTARIO SCENERY AND LIQUOR DRAW $5,000 FROM U. S.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 16.—During the summer months, following repeal of the Ontario temperance act, more than $5,000 automobile tourists from the United States visited interior Ontario, via the Detroit route alone, according to statistics compiled by the Essex county [Windsor] Automobile club.

The club, which has charge of issuance of automobile touring permits to aliens passing into the interior of the province through Windsor, estimates that these tourists spent more than $2,000,000. The interesting observation that a majority of those tabulated were attracted to the province by its scenic beauties is made by the organization, in its report, made public tonight.

Only five per cent of the visitors asked how liquor permits were obtained and about one per cent actually bought beer or whisky in Windsor before starting out on their trips, the report asserts. "Furthermore, no American tourists were arrested for driving while drunk. No cases were reported for striking out in the open all summer, and not a single case was brought to our attention of a tourist arrested for drunkenness."

DRY LEAGUE'S PET MEASURE IN OHIO FACES DISASTER

Calls Referendum Hoping to Restore Raider Fees.

Columbus, O., Oct. 16.—[Special.]—After complete dominance of state politics for ten years the Ohio Anti-Saloon league is confronted with a major disaster in November. The vote is to be on a referendum called on a bill it caused to be enacted by the legislature to restore rural magistrates to their power to try liquor cases. This power was taken from the country squires and village and small city mayors by the decision of the Supreme court of the United States in the Tummy case.

Although the election is weeks away, it is conceded the league is waging a losing fight to sustain the bill in the referendum election. Former prohibition supporters and newspapers which have been staunch defenders of the prohibition policy have deserted the league in its efforts to carry the bill.

Dry's Admit Defeat.
Defeat is conceded privately by many of the league supporters. Although the decision is to be on the form of enforcement, the turn of events gives promise of shaking the hold of the league on Ohio politics.

Ohio is the home of the Anti-Saloon league. It adopted a state prohibition amendment to the constitution and supported national prohibition by ratification through the legislature. The state has defeated attempts to modify state prohibition by an amendment sanctioning 2.75 per cent beer and wine.

The present situation grew out of a decision of the United States Supreme court in the Tummy case. Ever since the establishment of the state minor offenses were tried before village mayors and justices of the peace. They had final jurisdiction to try minor offenses without jury and to commit to jail in default of payment of fines. The fines, however, were small and the offenses were of the class described by Chief Justice William H. Taft as "village peccadilloes."

Given 11 Years in Jail.

When prohibition was adopted these fines were increased enormously, with a maximum of $1,000 for each of the offenses of illegal possession, transportation, and sale of intoxicants. The persons convicted were required to remain in jail to "pay out" fines at the rate of 50 cents a day. In instances possession of a small quantity of intoxicants resulted in penalties of as high as 11 years in jail. Persons by the governor were necessary to stop these extreme cases. In many instances magistrates participated in the raids and then sat as judges at the trial of those they helped to arrest.

Ends Reign of Terror.

The most objectionable feature of the operation of the laws was that the trial magistrates, mayors, and justices of the peace did not obtain their fees unless the accused persons were convicted.

The system continued until the United States Supreme court held the practice violated the fourteenth amendment, upon the ground that a trial magistrate who was financially interested in the result could not give a fair trial. The decision ended a reign of terror.

Through its control over the legislature the Anti-Saloon league caused the enactment of a bill by Senator L. J. Marshall, Greene county, to restore the courts.

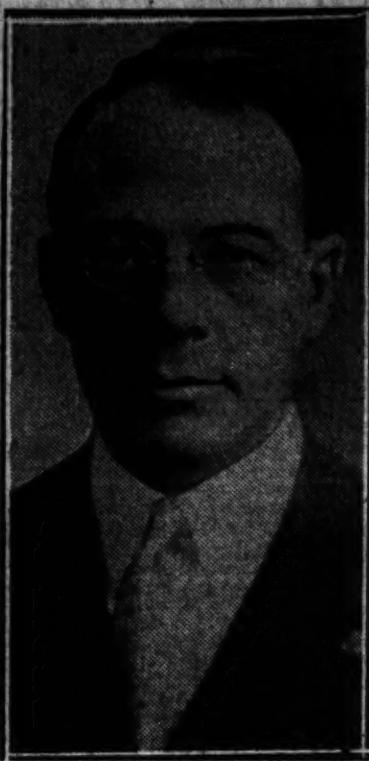

In a statement on the bill Gov. Vio Donahy said it was one "which no honest man could defend." He refrained from vetoing the bill and the referendum petition was filed, suspending its operation until a popular vote could be obtained.

Investigating Raids.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Washington, D. C., Oct. 16.—[Special.]—Mr. Edwin B. Hesse, superintendent of the local metropolitan police, has undertaken a personal investigation of reports that police of the Second precinct staged a series of fruitless liquor raids Friday night to satisfy the curiosity of Dr. William S. Abernethy, a Baptist clergyman, and president of the Citizens Service association, a volunteer "dry snipers" organization.

Mr. Hesse's anger was aroused when he learned that five homes were broken into—doors smashed and rooms ransacked—in a futile search for liquor. He declared he intends to find out from the policemen involved whether the raids were based on honest belief that the law was being violated or whether, as is charged, they were made "to show Dr. Abernethy how it is done."

WOMAN LIKENS TEDDY JR. TO HIGH CLASS MORON

Charges Colonel Struck Al Smith Foul Blow.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 16.—[Special.]—Col. Theodore Roosevelt came in for a serious arraignment today by Representative Mary T. Norton, New Jersey's Democratic congresswoman, chiefly on account of a speech to Republican women here.

Incidentally, Mrs. Norton echoed the criticism of Col. Roosevelt for his speech at the Republican state convention at Rochester. She contrasted the Colonel to his father, the late President, for whom she expressed deep admiration, and intimated the son was "little more than a high-class moron." She referred to him as "this so called blundering keynoter," and charged him with "pure bone-headedness."

Argues He Was Made Goat.

The New Jersey congresswoman accused Roosevelt of "hitting below the belt" in his references to Gov. Al Smith in the Rochester speech. She argued that Col. Roosevelt was singled out to be "the goat" in the convention, most of those in that body, according to her, having an ambition in politics that made them shy of uttering an attack on Gov. Smith and his administration.

Mrs. Norton countered on Col. Roosevelt's allegations of Tammany corruption in the state government by recalling his part as assistant secretary of the navy, in the granting of naval oil leases to the Doheny and Sinclair interests.

Questions His Judgment.

It was Roosevelt, she said, who carried to President Harding for his approving signature the executive order transferring the naval oil reserves to the interior department.

"Any normal person, Democrat or Republican, who has followed the career of the late lamented Theodore Roosevelt must find it difficult to understand how this 'Colonel Roosevelt' can be of the same blood, although history records that many men of very superior intellect unfortunately have sons who are little more than high class morons," Mrs. Norton said.

MODEL, 19, TIRED OF LIFE, TIRES TO KILL HERSELF

Penniless, disillusioned, and tired of her life as an artist's model, Miss Josephine Marchant, 19 years old, attempted suicide last night by swallowing poison in her room at the Rice hotel, 758 North Dearborn street. "I'm in trouble, come at once," she then told a friend, Harold Blum, 715 South Cuyler avenue, Oak Park, over the telephone. He notified the hotel manager, William Hughes, who called the police. At the county hospital it was said Josephine will recover. Blum told the police that her home is at 1137 East Kentucky street, Louisville, Ky., and that they loved each other.

RADICALS CLOUD LOWDEN SKY IN WESTERN STATES

Morris-Borah Bloc May Defeat Illinoisian.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., Oct. 18.—(Special.)—Administration Republicans are attempting to find some measure of satisfaction in the political activities of the senatorial radicals.
These Republicans, some of whom are for Hoover and others for Hughes, view the situation the most immediate threat in the pre-convention campaign will be to weaken the presidential candidacy of Frank O. Lowden.
Such a tendency, they argue, may help to bring about the ultimate nomination of some one friendly to the present administration.

Remains Out of Primary.
With Hoover, Hughes, and Dawes all showing a disposition to remain out of the pre-convention contests, it has seemed a probability that Lowden would enter the convention with a total of pledged delegates far greater than any other aspirant. Some of the Lowden boosters have predicted a Lowden vote of 400 out of a total of about 1,000 on the first ballot.

The La Follette radicals in the senate make no secret of the fact that they do not like Lowden, regardless of his espousal of the cause of farm relief. As a matter of fact the La Follette group did not sponsor the McNary-Haugen bill which was developed by western farm leaders, who while radical on agricultural legislation, have not ordinarily been enamored of other legislative panaceas proposed by the La Follette-Norris-Brookhart following.
Most of the La Follette group voted for the McNary-Haugen bill, but did not because farm organizations in their states were back of it. Some of them made no secret of the fact that they preferred other farm relief schemes of an even more radical character.
That the candidacy of a radical Republican will injure Lowden is believed by administration Republicans to be obvious from the fact that some of the leading radical senators come from states which have been regarded as Lowden strongholds.
Senator Norris (Rep., Neb.), who has been considered as the probable candidate of the radicals, will out into Lowden strength in Nebraska, where Mr. McMullen has been an active Lowden supporter. If Norris were not a candidate Nebraska would be expected to send a solid Lowden delegation to the convention. It already has been indicated that Gov. McMullen is not opposed to make a fight against Norris but that he will pin his hopes upon winning the delegates to Lowden.

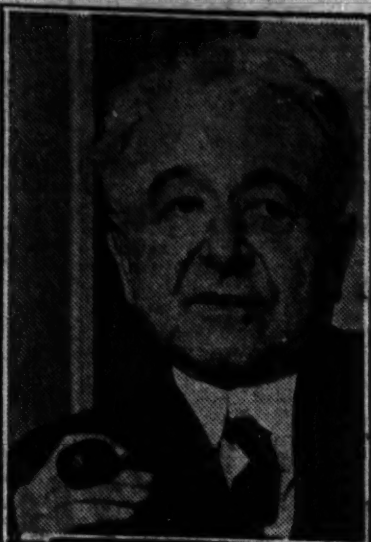

Brookhart for Norris.
North Dakota has been regarded as a Lowden state, but the radicals believe that Senators Frazier and Nye (Rep., N. D.) can deliver to Norris. Iowa has been considered in the Lowden column, but Senator Brookhart (Rep., Ia.) will exert his influence to swing his delegates to the Nebaskan.
There are other western states where similar situations prevail.

If Senator Borah (Rep., Idaho), who is assuming the leadership of the radical group, should be its candidate, his strength might not be so great as that of Norris in Nebraska, North Dakota, Iowa, but he would be expected to swing into other Lowden territory in the west. Senator Borah voted against the McNary-Haugen bill and is talking for compromise farm legislation, omitting the equalization fee feature.
With the weakening of the Lowden boom the administration Republicans recognize that one effect may be to swing the Lowden forces to swing to Vice President Dawes and that the latter may then obtain other support which the former Illinois governor would not get.

KING'S FOE

FREDERICK BAUMAN.

FOE OF BRITISH TAINT IN TEXTS HERE FOR TRIAL

Frederick Bauman, former justice of the Washington state supreme court, whose sentiments against British propaganda in an article in the October American Mercury struck a sympathetic chord in Mayor Thompson, arrived in Chicago from Seattle last night at the mayor's behest to testify Wednesday in the trial of Supt. William McAndrew, charged with being a "stool pigeon of the king of England."

Frank Righelmer, school board attorney, after a conference with Mr. Bauman predicted that the McAndrew trial would far outshadow in significance the Tennessee evolution trial.

Charges Propaganda in Books.
Mr. Bauman will testify that the British viewpoint has been injected through powerful Anglophil agencies backed by large funds into fifty per cent of the textbooks used in the elementary schools. The immediate purpose of this propaganda, the former judge will say, is to mould the minds of the children to the theory that Britain should maintain naval supremacy. Mr. Bauman said that British ships 2,000 miles from the American coast would be able to blockade this nation and shut one-half the mills of this country within four months.

It is just this advantage which Britain hopes to retain by propaganda in the United States, the ex-judge charged.

CALLS HISTORY UNFIT

New York, Oct. 18.—(Special.)—Declaring that "Modern History," by Profs. Hayes and Moon, is "unfit for public school use," and that "it contains subtle falsehoods designed to restore America into the sentimental, spiritual, and political subjection to Great Britain," the national Americanization committee and the council of administration of the department of New York of the Veterans of Foreign Wars have gone on record as opposed to introducing this volume into the public schools of New York state.

Steps are being taken by the national body of the organization to compel its withdrawal from use in Chicago and other cities in the west as a result of protests by patriotic organizations. During the last few months, according to officials of the veterans, efforts have been made to introduce the history in the public schools of New York City.
"This textbook teaches, regarding the American revolution and the founding of our nation, not the long consecrated truths handed down by our fathers, but the hostile version of their facts, degrading America and exalting Britain in the minds of our children," a recent resolution of the Veterans' Americanization committee declared.

Carlton J. H. Hayes, against whom most of the protest is directed, is a history professor at Columbia university. Thomas Parker Menn, co-author, is an assistant professor of international relations at Columbia.

NEXT ACT IN OIL LEASE SCANDALS ON STAGE TODAY

Witnesses Defy U. S. Call from Europe.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 16.—(P)—The next installment of the naval oil lease scandals will be staged tomorrow in the District of Columbia Supreme court with the calling to trial of Albert B. Fall and Harry D. Sinclair.

The impaneling of a jury will be the first order with the expectation that perhaps two or three days will be consumed in drawing twelve men.

This will be the second time that each of the accused have faced a jury in the District court. Fall was acquitted with Edward L. Doheny last December of a criminal conspiracy charge, based on the lease of the Elk Hills, Cal., reserve to Doheny, while Sinclair was convicted early last spring of contempt of the senate in refusing to answer certain questions in the senate oil inquiry. The oil man has appealed from the sentence of three months in jail.

There is much speculation as to whether Fall and Sinclair would take the stand in their own defense.

Neither appeared on the stand at Cheyenne during the trial of the civil suit, which was concluded last Monday with a decision of the Supreme court restoring the reserve to the govern-

BABY IS BORN AS NEW HOSPITAL IS BEING DEDICATED

Exercises dedicating the New Martha Washington hospital, at Irving Park boulevard and Western avenue, took an informal turn yesterday when the audience of several hundred persons was requested to choose a name for a girl who had just been born in the institution to Mrs. Annie O'Shea. The crowd voted that Martha Washington O'Sheas would be a nice name.

Among the speakers at the dedication were the Rev. John Timothy Stone, George W. Dixon, and Senator Charles S. Deneen. The hospital was built by the directors of the Washington Home association, which for many years conducted an alcoholic cure at Madison street and Ogden avenue. Care of inebriates is still given in the old building.

ment, on the ground that the lease had been made in a conspiracy by Fall and Sinclair.

The highest court in its decision severely criticized Fall, declaring him to be a "faithless" public officer, and it commented at length upon the failure of Sinclair to take the witness stand to explain operations of the Continental Trading Company, Ltd., of Canada, and transactions in Liberty bonds, some of which the government contended passed from that company to Fall.

More than three score witnesses will be called by the government. The government again will be without the services of two "star" witnesses, H. M. Blackmer and James E. O'Neill, who fled to Europe in the early days of the investigation into the naval oil leases.

The fire which damaged only the front part of the store (already repaired) filled the store with dense smoke which naturally permeated all the rugs that were on the floor at the time. Of these there were more than

DEMOCRATS STIR LIFE AT HINT OF G. O. P. DISCORD

Rank of Candidates for State's Attorney.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Months after being walloped by the "America first" club wielded by the liberal elements of the community, Chicago Democracy has begun to show signs of returning consciousness.

Stirred by preliminary rumbles of a new row in the Republican family, Democratic leaders have begun to look their eyes and look around. They have been dreaming pleasantly of rosy prospects with Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York as the head of their national ticket, but it took the Republican racket to arouse them sufficiently to start to pick local candidates.

Early regular, although extremely informal discussions of the outlook have been held around the Democratic luncheon table at the Celtic club, and from that quarter has come what promises to be the first movement on a candidate—Judge William J. Lindsay for state's attorney.

Lindsay Called Best Bet.

There is nothing official about it yet and there are other candidates whose names are being urged. Among them is Henry A. Berger, one of the chief lieutenants of Mackay Hoyne in the state attorney's office and one of the legal advisers of the organization for several years. But the trend of thought is that there are a number of advantages in connection with a Lindsay candidacy that cannot be found elsewhere. He is described as the best bet.

When he was elected to the Superior court four years ago Judge Lindsay showed some of the more widely known sitting judges who were up for reelection. Three of his four years' service have been spent in the criminal court, and during one of them he was chief justice of the criminal branch. It is known that he has a preference for that kind of work over the civil.

Brennan Says It's Too Early.

George E. Brennan, Democratic national committeeman, whose lead in such matters ordinarily is followed, says it is still too early to start picking names. But when this sort of thing starts among the Democrats it keeps going, and the predictions are that it will continue until the whole ticket takes shape.

The defeat of Mayor Dever was a stunner for his party. That it had been accomplished largely by Democrats jumping the party fence made it still worse. During the intervening half year the only signs of life have been faint murmurs of "Al Smith," "Al Smith," followed by a relapse into coma.

During the last two weeks, however, there have been sounds, forecasting an unexpectedly bitter primary in the Republican household. Mayor Thompson has declared he will enter the presidential preference primary in Illinois if Frank O. Lowden does. He has had another talk with Gov. Len Small in a manner taken as proof that they may team up and ignore Attorney General Cawthon's promises to warm things up for the governor by running against him.

Demen Faction Faces War.

And Mayor Thompson and his associates have shown every intention of trying to erase United States Senator Demen's organization from the map. It is said they consider as canceled promises the Demen people believed were given for good in the primary—one promise that Thompson would keep hands off the national convention delegates and another that he would support Edward R. Litzinger of the board of review and County Recorder Joseph F. Haas for renomination.

Seeing the danger in advance the Demen people had begun their preparations. They started candidates for precinct committeemen throughout the city, and while they have not yet reached the state packing stage, they are discussing the choice of candidates against the Thompson-Crowe-Galpin office holders and their attention has appeared to be riveted on the state's attorneyship.

Believe Crowe Best Target.

That is considered the certain focus of a primary battle if one develops, not only because the position is considered the head of the county ticket, but also because it is held by Robert E. Crowe, who is considered the real boss of the present Thompson machine. It is argued that in that capacity and as prosecutor for eight years he has aroused enough feeling against himself to make him a target in a party elimination contest.

That's largely why the Democratic mind has centered on the state's attorneyship, observers say. The Democrats seem to feel that the assault on Crowe will weaken him so much before the primary that if he is renominated—and they think he will be—his position is the logical point of attack for their fall campaign.

Chicago — the City of Neighborhood Banks

CHICAGO—SPREADING FAR AND wide, setting the pace for the world with its magnificent program of civic growth—is the one city which has developed the independent Neighborhood Banks. Few realize how these banks have grown and what their presence in the outlying districts of the city and its suburbs has meant; few are informed on the vast sums of money which these banks safeguard, although tens of thousands avail themselves of the service they offer to the individual, the business house, the factory and the family. That their number has increased from eleven in 1900 to more than two hundred in 1927; that in the same time, their deposits have grown from a little over twenty millions to more than thirty-six times that amount, or $723,000,000.00—a sum exceeding the total deposits in all the banks of any one of thirty-two states; and that they pay out more than $12,000,000.00 in salaries annually, are a few of the facts which indicate the immense importance of the Neighborhood Banks in Chicago's daily life. Why the Neighborhood Banks should be a natural outcome of Chicago's growth, how they have influenced and aided this growth, what they stand for, how they are managed and the service they render will be explained in a series of articles to be published weekly in the newspapers. No resident of Chicago or the surrounding territory should miss reading the vital facts which these articles will present. The first one will appear next week.

FASCISTI PAPER SEES POPE AGAIN TEMPORAL RULER

Points Italian-Vatican Path to Peace.

ROME, Oct. 16.—(AP)—It is possible, indeed probable, that an agreement between the church and the state for the solving of the "Roman question" will be based on three substantial points, says Popolo Di Roma, which is one of the leading fascist organs in Rome.

Must Agree in Advance.
The first point is, no concession shall come from the Italian state without a previous understanding with the holy see, as to acceptance; otherwise there would be a repetition of the law of guarantees passed by the Italian state in 1871, which the Vatican has not yet accepted.

Second, no solution is possible without previous acknowledgment of papal territorial sovereignty, no matter how small the territory may be.

Third, no foreign interference in the solution of the Roman question.

Both sides, says the paper, are in perfect accord on the last point of not having any foreign government intervene in the negotiations.

Who Will Negotiate?
The greatest difficulty to overcome now in connection with the desire of the Vatican for territorial sovereignty, according to Popolo Di Roma, is, who will represent the papacy on one side and the government on the other looking to negotiations. All the rest is a question of time and is almost of secondary importance.

"Indeed," continues the paper, "it is not difficult to change the phrase in the law of guarantees, which says that the pope has 'enjoyment' of apostolic palaces and actual judicial possession of them similarly. The dignity of Italy will not be compromised if the Vatican garden be widened."

These representative lines have been reduced 15% to 25% for the Autumn Festival.

There are several etched patterns, several cuttings, one green crystal and one cased crystal, a notable assortment from $8 to $50.

PRISONER SHAVES SELF AND BARES BLOOD BREAK PLOT

Razors and a Gun
Found on Suspect.

McClintock, 24 years old, identity and criminal record are subjects of nation wide search the police, lost his professional license and possible chance of a "jail delivery" yesterday because of his generosity with one of his prisoners at the first district station.

How McClintock transported his prisoner consisting of two men and a six shooting resulted in a cell with him is still a mystery to the sergeant and to Patrick lockup keeper.

Passed in Frisk.
When was picked up early Sunday morning with 25 other suspects, given the customary "frisk" response, but the search failed to find anything, and he was looked up yesterday morning asked the name of William McClintock
and his address as 197 South
Washington street.

Among the others in his cell was Peter Peterson, who was arrested Friday morning with passing a bad check.
Yesterday morning asked the name of William McClintock
and his address as 197 South
Washington street.

With a Razor, of Course.
When asked if he had a razor, Peterson replied "Yes," and showed the razor.
When some questioning Lee disclosed that McClintock had another razor and a pistol in his possession.
That the man had informed Peterson as soon as the latter had finished his shave, that the "real doings were going to start."

Called two patrolmen and they went to the corridor with McClintock into the corridor with the man's rush. Following this, the officer turned the man and found the razor.

How did you get them past the officer? Peterson demanded.
"He wants to know," replied Mc-Clintock.

The police are still in the dark as to the exact trick of concealment.
Peterson, who will go to court today on his check charge, did not fare better. For his part of the episode he was declared in on Lockup Keeper and yesterday prepared Sunday lunch.

Special Times Service.
PARIS, Dec. 16.—Dag Hammarskjöld, premier of Sweden, today launched a campaign to urge the United Nations to support the French government in its efforts to keep his nation's cabinet in the saddle. His work was done. At the same time he announced to the world that he was preparing a new constitution for his country. "I would like our peaceful intentions to be shared by all peoples and to be recognized officially and indisputably by all peoples," he said. "Since the war we have reduced our army contingents to the minimum of the peace time. We are preparing a new constitution during this period to one-third of what it was before the war."

Showing Fearful Alps.
Within the limits compatible with safety we are showing the world the true character of the means by which we are accomplishing our ends. It may be fair that we should be credited for these things, which are not our intentions. The world has not shared the old fears and warned the least spark thrown away. In Europe is likely to cause a new war, and the world will be hostile and all the animes of peace will be devoured successfully. During in the town where we are working, the American soldiers were billeted in the war days, the first time since he undertook such a task. The American soldiers of Foincare was given an enthusiastic reception. Flowers were before him in the streets. —The Evening News.
Heard indirectly at the vast plot of radical parties to subvert the empire, and painted an ominous of what might happen to the world. The world was in the election in May, 1928.

ANY DESERT MEXICAN REBEL LEADER, GOMEZ

[From Tribune Press Service.]

MOJO CITY, Oct. 15.—Travelers here today are being warned that the rebels are deserting Gen. Gomez rapidly. The revolting federal army men who have come to seek life in the mountains and good uniforms, beards and amused regularly, and their families behind, consider the rebels as the only small percentage of the more sane remain.

It is reported that two private soldiers of the Mexican army are deserting and leaving private propaganda were summarily shot. The rebels still are reported to be in the mountains, and the government is back the government.

In a report of a battle, yesterday rebels and federal cavalry fought the rebels in the mountains. It is said Gen. Gomez is moving further into the mountains.

The chic woman, while she appreciates the smartness of velvet for this season, knows that its chic is dependent most of all upon its cut and designs. A two-piece frock in plain black velvet or in black velvet polka dotted in white has a wrap-around skirt draped at the left, and is ornamented at the neckline with an unusual pin and a velvet tie. It is $95.

Fabrics in Which They May Be Reproduced Are on Sale at the Same Time

Laces, chiffons, lames—in these names are written the most exquisite winter modes as the famous designers in Paris have expressed them. A collection of fascinating models will be shown daily at 11 and 2:30 in the Sheer Fabric Section during this week. Afternoon, formal and informal gowns, and a gorgeous evening wrap are included. It is upon the handsome and unusual materials, laces, spangled fabrics, brocades, chiffons, of which these models were created, that their inimitable chic is based. Material in which they may be copied will be on sale each day, thus making the exact reproduction or adaptation of these models from Parisian masters of design possible. An expert cutter and fitter will cut and fit any of the gowns shown at a nominal charge.

Observing eyes notice the persistent favor shown for lace clocked here by the smartly dressed both in Paris and America. Slender, gracefully designed clocks of exceptional length put a finishing touch of elegance on these newly arrived hose. Yarn dyed, they are fashioned of sheer, lustrous silk throughout, and may be had in petal, moonlight, ecstasy, rose—vande, chanelle, dust, gunmetal, flaxen and terrain. The price is an unusually moderate one. $3.15.

Unusually simple on first glance, the new coat proclaims itself as belonging to 1927 by a detailed sophistication of line. Left—Kashmir satin material bordered and cuffed with fox, satin lined, makes an effective coat; brown, black or tan, $165. Right—soft malina material, with collar and deep cuffs of beaver; Franciscan brown, tan, black, green or blue, $165.

Translated into English the name of this immensely chic new hat body is "Silken Hair." Distinguished by a lustrous sheen, and by its long nap, it is still amazingly, almost feather-light in weight. Available in several colors and in smart black, this body, as well as the new soleil velours and the new felts from Paris and Vienna, may be had in copies or adaptations of the French models recently imported by us. Hats of these bodies may also be custom made on the head.

Those who wish to combine service, fine quality and style when purchasing a fur coat, invariably follow our recommendation and make a selection from our large assortment of Hudson Seal Coats. This year our collection is unusually interesting. Each coat interprets the late winter styles in fur, is characterized by splendid workmanship and established as serviceable and lasting by the expert selection of pelts and the careful workmanship which long since founded the reputation of Field furs. Hudson Seal Coats may be purchased with kolinsky, squirrel or self trimmings. Two interesting models are sketched above.

FLOGGING TRIALS TO START TODAY; ELEVEN ACCUSED

Birmingham Prosecutor
Predicts Victory.

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 16.—(AP)—The first eleven men recently indicted on charges of flogging two white men and a Negro will go on trial in Jefferson county Circuit court here tomorrow with Attorney General Charles McCall directing the prosecution.

Mr. McCall, who has just returned from Crenshaw county, where he directed the grand jury investigation of floggings there, tonight declared he believed that convictions would result from the trials here.

Julius Lumpkin, indicted for flogging, will be the first of the eleven men to face trial. Trial of W. J. Worthington, prominent Birmingham attorney, indicted for bribery and kidnapping in connection with the whipping of Arthur Hitt, Negro, following his refusal to sell the farm on which he made his home, is expected to be called at an early date.

Hitt, it is alleged, was frightened into selling his farm for $300, considerably below its estimated value, after being flogged repeatedly and threatened by a masked band. The real estate transfer records showed Worthington as the purchaser.

A Crenshaw county grand jury sitting at Luverne yesterday returned 102 indictments in connection with the masked flogging of twenty or more persons and conducted a sweeping investigation into the workings of the Ku Klux Klan, reporting at the end of its probe that it was convinced that the men at the head of the organization were "unworthy of trust."

All of the indictments were against members of the Ku Klux Klan, the jury reported to Judge A. E. Gamble. Attorney General McCall indicated trial of the persons mentioned by the indictments probably would begin Nov. 21. No indication of the names of the indicted persons was given and their identity will be unknown until warrants are issued for their arrest.

WIFE SHOTS HER HUSBAND, A COP, DURING QUARREL

Riding home from an all night party, early yesterday morning, Harry Powers, 35 years old, a policeman attached to the park district of Oak Park, and his wife, Frances, 32 years old, began quarreling. The dispute reached its climax when Mrs. Powers picked up her husband's revolver which was lying on the floor of their automobile and shot him in the foot.

The couple had been guests at the home of Mrs. Helen Mcweeney, 940 South Clarence avenue, Oak Park. Mrs. Mcweeney and her 7-year old son were in the automobile at the time of the shooting when the four were proceeding to the Powers home at 303 South 21st avenue, Oakwood. The shooting occurred at 3d avenue and Roosevelt road, Maywood. Powers was taken to the Oak Park hospital, where he signed a statement absolving his wife of all blame. She was to be released.

Three-Quarters of a Century of Service

Perhaps no special veneration is due to an individual or a company because of age alone. It is the reputation borne and nurtured throughout those years which should be considered.

Sargent's, for 75 years, has left nothing undone which would tend to enable them to render better service to physicians and their patients.

TO PATIENTS, by giving the very best prescription service and conscientiously refraining from counter prescribing and from offering for sale any of the thousands and one nostrums which tend to encourage self-diagnosis and self-medication.

TO PHYSICIANS, by rendering prompt service with those supplies that have been tested and approved by highest authorities in the medical profession.

To the many friends who have contributed to the success of this institution a sincere and grateful expression of most appreciation is extended.

RECALLED ENVOY OF RUSSIA QUILTS PARIS SECRETLY

Diplomatic Good-by to France Avoided.

BY HENRY WALES.
(Copyright, 1927, by The Chicago Tribune.)
PARIS, Oct. 16.—Without bothering to fulfill the usual diplomatic formality of presenting his letter of recall to President Gaston Doumergue, Christian Rakovsky, the Russian soviet ambassador to Paris, left the French capital suddenly this morning by automobile for Berlin. His manner was described as both stealthy and mysterious.
Having been expelled as an undesirable from more countries than most people have ever visited, the soviet envoy whom the French daily prevailed upon Moscow to take away, seemed still obsessed with what appeared to be an ingrained fear of the police when he slipped out of Paris at 4 o'clock this morning before anybody was stirring in the aristocratic Faubourg St. Germain section, where the old czarist embassy, now occupied by the soviets, is located.
Paris Asks What Did He Fear.
Being absolutely unable to obtain

GAS THIEF MAILS HIS VICTIM $50 AS CONSCIENCE MONEY

Quincy, Ill., Oct. 16.—[Special.]—William H. Hoffman, Democratic candidate for the state senate for the Quincy district had a new experience that leads him to have more confidence in his fellow man. He has cars and buys gasoline in 100 gallon lots, having the tank at his home. He thought his gasoline was going faster than it should.
One night a short time ago a member of his family went to the garage and found two five gallon cans, one filled with gas. This morning, Mr. Hoffman received $50 in a letter thanking him for not trying to find the owner of the cans, and the money was for the gas that was taken.

reservations on the Paris-Berlin express for the next five days, M. Rakovsky chose the tedious, uncomfortable drive to the German capital in his red limousine. An armed guard accompanied him, it was said.
What did he fear in Paris? This is the question that is being asked everywhere in the French capital today. Quai d'Orsay had done nothing to indicate that the ambassador could not stay on a few days longer, and official circles insist they are unable to throw any light on his precipitate departure.
It is presumed here that M. Rakovsky will accept the post of ambassador to Tokyo rather than throw himself into the struggle in Russia between Comissar Stalin and the opposition, led by the much discredited Leon Trotsky, with whose faction he is affiliated.

French Ignore Russian Note.
Despite the grudging consent of Moscow to withdraw the undesirable envoy, the Franco-Russian relations are hardly back to normal. The French foreign office is studying the unprecedented position of not replying to Foreign Minister G. V. Chicherin's last note.
The conservative press of Paris, which forced M. Rakovsky's recall, is now beginning to attack Ambassador Dovgalevsky. The newspapers are labeling him as a murderer and thus, with the hope of creating an impossible situation before he can even reach Paris from Tokyo. Thus they expect to force an eventual break in relations between France and Russia. M. Dovgalevsky was an electrician in the city light plant at Bordeaux in 1914 before he launched on a lurid career of bolshevism.

Legion Zouaves Decorate
Yank Graves at Verdun
VERDUN, France, Oct. 16.—(AP)—The Zouave drill team of the American Legion from Michigan visited the Verdun battlefield today and placed wreaths on the tombs of American and French soldiers. They were received at the city hall by the mayor, who presented them with Verdun medals. They then proceeded to Douaumont and Chateau Thierry.

HUNT ROADHOUSE GUNMEN WHO KILLED WAITER

County and city police cooperated yesterday in hunting for the gang of ten men who held up a hundred persons in "The Barn," a roadhouse at Pratt and Lincoln avenues, Tazewell, early yesterday morning and fatally shot Joseph Goodman, 24 years old, 4132 West Washington boulevard, when he attempted to give an alarm.
Goodman, a professional football player, worked at the roadhouse as a singing waiter on Thursday and Saturday nights. He met the gang at the door of the place and when he started to shout, the leader shot him through the head. He died three hours later.
The ten bandits then entered the roadhouse and ordered those present to line up against a wall. Women were stripped of their jewelry and men forced to hand over their money. The value of the loot was estimated at $10,000.
Goodman, it was reported, was to have been married next week. Mrs. Margaret Evers, 39 years old, 4817 Washington boulevard, appeared at the hospital to arrange for removal of the body. She was weeping but denied that she had been engaged to marry Goodman. She said she was a friend of Goodman's sister.

FOUR ARMY MEN GET MEDALS FOR ACTS OF COURAGE

Washington, D. C., Oct. 16.—(AP)—The first four awards of the soldiers' medal, created by congress as a decoration for army personnel for heroic action not involving conflict with an enemy, were announced today at the war department.
The medals will go to John F. Burns and James P. Martin, both privates in the 56th ordnance company, stationed at the Big Point, Va., ordnance depot; James K. Wilson, a warrant officer at Fort McPherson, Ga.; and Charles C. Burnett, a private of the 42d service squadron, air corps, at Brooks field, Texas.
Burns and Martin are given the medals for having risked death from explosion of loaded projectiles in fighting the Big Point, Va., ordnance depot fire on Aug. 15, 1924. Wilson, acting as a Boy Scout troop scout master, rescued one of his charges, Clyde Quigley, from drowning. Burnett rescued two women from a similar fate in the Roosevelt Park swimming pool at San Antonio, Tex.

SOVIETS ARREST MANY TROTSKY AIDS AT JUBILEE

Accused of Plotting to Overthrow Stalin.

(Chicago Tribune Staff Service.)
MOSCOW, Oct. 16.—The tenth jubilee session of the Russian central executive committee of Leningrad today marked a dramatic episode in the history of the revolution. Reports detailing the Bolshevik celebration say that while the first jubilee session was marked by mass arrests of the nobility, bourgeoisie and intelligentsia, who later were executed during the red terror, the present session also has been accompanied by mass arrests among the adherents of Gregory Zinoviev and Leon Trotsky. The Trotsky adherents are accused of planning a huge demonstration against Communist Stalin, who finds himself firmly seated in Nicolai Lenin's chair.

Arrest Government Prisoners.
The Leningrad newspaper Pravda reports that Michael Fisher, head of the government printing establishment at Leningrad, was arrested for permitting an opposition group to print thousands of pamphlets, posters, and hand bills, calling upon the central executive committee to throw out

Communist Stalin's dictatorship. Hundreds of communists suspected of supporting Trotsky and Zinoviev were visited by detachments of R. F. U. (state political police), who searched for 10,000 pamphlets entitled "Down with Stalin and Bukharin," which have disappeared.

Since Trotsky and Zinoviev have been deprived of their important posts they have been living in retirement in Moscow. It is a question whether they will be permitted to attend the conference on the tenth anniversary of the revolution, which will begin at Moscow in two weeks. They no longer are referred to as commissars, even though they retain membership in the central committee of the communist party.

Get Paying Guests Again.

The Hotel Europa in Leningrad, the finest hostelry in Russia before the revolution, is filled for the first time in the last ten years with paying guests, since the entire Moscow diplomatic corps has journeyed to Leningrad to attend the celebration.

Because the other hotels long ago were converted into soviet offices, the Leningrad housing committee is having difficulties finding places for the 200 delegates, most of whom are quartered with local communist leaders, who are entitled to slightly more housing space than ordinary citizens, whose allowances, like that in Moscow, is only 44 square feet.

HARVEST FARM RESTAURANT.
Two men early yesterday held up Michael Michon, proprietor of a restaurant at 296 Center street, searched, seized $200,000 in value, and three valises, and took $200 from the register.

Leads Move for 2 Minute Silence on Armistice Day

New York, Oct. 16.—(AP)—William C. Redfield, secretary of commerce during the Wilson administration, has been elected chairman of the executive committee of the League of Remembrance, an organization to secure the observance of two minute silence on Armistice day.

Wise Selection and Important Service

If you could visit the markets with any one of our many buyers you would be surprised to find how much culling out they do. They compare this article against that, and this manufacturer's product against that one, until they find the one best thing for their stocks. When you pass by any counter in this store and see a line of merchandise featured there you may be sure it was not bought without much comparison. This is one of the unseen but very important advantages you find in our big new fall stocks of merchandise.

VETO OF FOREIGN LOANS ESPIONAGE GLASS DECLARES

Renews Assault on Coolidge Tactics.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Senator Carter Glass (Dem., Va.), former secretary of the treasury, today renewed his attack on the state department's use of what he terms "an extra-legal veto power" over American private loans to foreign governments. The senator declared he was "more abashed than convinced by the species of casuistry" with which President Coolidge defended the practice.

In a statement today the Virginia senator warned that the state department is following a "dangerous policy of espionage and moral control over private loans of American bankers to foreign governments." He insisted that the department's approval of foreign securities gave the latter a preferential status in American markets over domestic securities which have not the advantage of governmental sanction, and bear lower interest rates.

GUNGIRL AMONG 200 IN SHOWUP; FIVE IDENTIFIED

Mrs. Margaret Bayne, 24, south side gungirl, and two other women were among 200 prisoners marched yesterday before 250 victims of robberies and holdups at the Des Plaines street station. Five robberies were cleared up as the result of the showup and five men charged with the crimes.

With Mrs. Bayne was Herbert Smith, of 4131 Lake Park avenue, who went with her in holdups of elevated station cashiers, and each claimed ownership of the revolver she used, each endeavoring to take full blame for the crimes. The other two women—alleged pickpockets with long police records—were Mrs. Helen Schwartz, 31, and Miss Bertha Cohen, 21. Both gave New York addresses and hid their faces as much as possible when pickpocket victims viewed them. Neither was identified by any of the victims.

CANADA-DETROIT COMMUTERS TO LOSE THEIR JOBS

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—R. B. Mathews, district director of immigration, after reviewing reports from June 1 to Oct. 15, has announced that, with only six weeks remaining for alien commuters between Canada and Detroit to establish their border crossing privilege it is obvious that several thousand Canadians will lose their Detroit jobs after Dec. 1.

"There are probably 15,000 commuters who come under the immigration regulation inaugurated June 1," Mathews said, "and less than 6,000 have adjusted their status. Quota aliens have had their difficulties in getting quota visas, but there is no excuse for native Canadians, and should these lose their jobs in Detroit they have only themselves to blame."

Accidentally Kills Youth While Reloading Shotgun

Quincy, Ill., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Floyd Cross, 17, was accidentally shot and killed this afternoon by Mitchell Crossman, 19, when Crossman was reloading his gun. The charge struck Cross in the back at a distance of ten feet. Cross died five minutes after arriving at St. Mary's hospital.

Special Offer This Week for Second Liberty Bonds
Washington, D. C., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Federal reserve banks have been authorized by Secretary Mellon to purchase, at the option of holders, second Liberty loan 4 1/2 per cent bonds at 100-32 plus accrued interest at the time of purchase during this week. The banks' purchase of the bonds will be in line with the treasury department's retirement operation of second Liberty 4 1/2 per cent bonds, which have been called for redemption on next Nov. 15. The department explained that the offer would stand only for this week and automatically would terminate on Oct. 22.

Von Luckner, German Sea Raider During War, Here

Count Felix von Luckner, who during the world war was commander of the German ship Seeadler, which destroyed twenty allied vessels before it was smashed on a coral reef in the South Pacific, arrived in Chicago yesterday. He was accompanied by Countess von Luckner. Last spring Count von Luckner came to America in a sailing ship. He was in Chicago in April and addressed several German-American clubs.

Beauty Figure

WHY envy the graceful, youthful figures of other women who seem to be able to defy Time?

You can have such beauty of figure as any woman will envy—if you want. I have proved this statement hundreds of times in my studies. There is no possibility of failure.

Through my Muscle Sense System thousands of Chicago women have regained the beauty, health and poise they thought gone forever. A new figure—new health—a new joy of living can be yours without the drudgery of routine exercise or rigorous diet.

No wearing, tiring gymnastics, yet from the very first you will notice a change in your health and a veritable resulting of the lines of your figure.

It requires so little of your time to investigate the workings of the fascinating new system of mine—entirely different from any other in the world.

By phone or letter you may arrange for an appointment at my studio, and learn without obligation the details of what is really an entrancing game to regain or retain beauty and health. Or, if you prefer, I will send you literature.

MASTER CANNOT GO DRY; FINANCE CHIEF TELLS WHY

It Is Too Close to Whisky Centers.

BY JOHN STEELE.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
DUBLIN, Ireland, Oct. 16.—Prohibition, or even local option, is impossible in Ulster, according to H. M. Pollock, finance minister of the Ulster government. This is due to two inseparable facts: one, geographical and the other constitutional.

The geographical fact is the position of the small area of Ulster. To the south is a long border which to the north is impossible. It separates Ulster from the Irish Free State, which is one of the largest producers of whisky in the world. On the north and east is the sea coast, which at one point is only sixteen miles from Scotland, which is the largest producer of whisky.

In addition there are 3,000 men in the mountains of Ulster who know how to make whisky and who are making it even now, when the government is far from what they would be if Ulster went officially dry.

Like an English County.

The constitutional factor is the position of Ulster to Great Britain. In fact a small measure of local autonomy, Ulster's relation with Great Britain is that of an English county. It is doubtful if Ulster legislation making the liquor industry legitimate could be recognized under English law. England, moreover, would be bound to inquire where, if the revenue derived from liquor was abundant, Ulster proposed to find its share of the imperial prerogatives it is used to pay England.

Mr. Pollock scents the idea of the prohibitionists of Ulster would be the dry principles to affect health loyalty; there are many in Ulster who believe the loyalty would be severely strained if it is fully realized that the British connection prevents the full autonomy of Ulster in the matter of liquor regulations. These arguments affect the question of total prohibition.

An Hour from a Drink.

Mr. Pollock maintains that local option would lead to an absurd situation in a state where the area is so small. Even if the county areas adopted prohibition as units, no man over would be more than an hour or two from a drink, assuming that some counties would be dry and others wet. In the city of Belfast, with a population of 500,000, the local option laws propose four parliamentary areas as local option units. This would produce a situation where one side of the street would be dry and the other wet, for it is practically certain that one, probably two areas would remain wet while the other two probably would be dry. In such circumstances the enforcement of the law would become a farce.

In any case, Lord Craigavon, the prime minister of Ulster, has pledged his government against further liquor legislation and it remains to be seen how far the temperance party, led by the Presbyterian ministers, may decide to oppose the government in the next election.

COMPANY HONORS R. J. HILL ON HIS 75TH BIRTHDAY

R. J. Hill, chief engineer for the Quaker Oats company and an employee of that organization for thirty years, celebrated his 75th birthday yesterday. A tribute was delivered to Mr. Hill from John Stuart, president of the company, on the engineer's account. Hill was born in Woodstock, Ont., and was a close friend of the late Robert Stuart, former treasurer of the Quaker Oats company and the father of John Stuart.

Mr. Stuart on this occasion pointed out that his chief engineer spends three-fourths of the year traveling throughout the country, in full charge of power plant engineering. The president also recalled that Mr. Hill was employed when the Chicago Street Railway company first installed the cable, and that he was called in to supervise the power plant problem at the University of Chicago.

LAWYER CALLED INTO COURT TO EXPLAIN LETTER

May Face Contempt for Fergus Case Action.

Contempt of court proceedings may grow out of a hearing this morning before Circuit Judge Michael Feinberg. The court has called before him informally the author of a letter sent him in connection with the latest suit by John B. Fergus to compel senatorial reapportionment of the state in conformity with the constitution. He also has asked counsel in the case, Assistant State's Attorney George E. Gorman, for the respondent, and Attorney Lloyd M. Brown for the petitioner, to be present at 10 o'clock.

Letter Subject of Inquiry. Judge Feinberg listened to the arguments of counsel in this case last week and took it under advisement, saying he would notify the attorneys when he was ready to give his decision. In the interval he has received the letter which will be the subject of today's inquiry.

Although Judge Feinberg refused to make the name public, it was learned from Attorney Brown that the letter was written by Attorney Ralph L. Peck, chairman of the executive committee of the citizens' committee for popular representation, appointed by Mayor Devor to work for reapportionment. Attorney Peck had sent copies of the letter to Mr. Fergus and to Assistant State's Attorney Gorman.

"I was out of the city when this Fergus suit came up," said Attorney Peck, "and as we also are planning court action to compel reapportionment I wrote Judge Feinberg saying we were considering asking permission to intervene in this case."

Wrote Second Letter. "Later we decided to begin our own proceedings as we originally had planned and I wrote him a second letter telling him of that decision. Perhaps he has not yet received the second letter. In any event I trust Judge Feinberg will not misconstrue the first letter as an effort to influence his decision in the Fergus suit. I didn't, of course, intend anything of the sort."

"There will be some explaining to do to justify the letter," Judge Feinberg said.

Honor Memory of Editor Lost in Atlantic Flight

West New York, N. J., Oct. 16.—(AP)—More than 10,000 persons paid honor this afternoon at outdoor memorial services to the memory of Philip Payne, managing editor of the New York Daily Mirror, who was lost at sea with the New York to Rome plane Old Glory on Sept. 7. The services were held under the direction of Cusick post, American Legion. The principal address was delivered by Mayor James J. Walker of New York.

DOUGLAS STATUE, THREATENED BY TAX SALE, SAVED

Threatened with sale for taxes, the monument erected in memory of the Democratic statesman, Stephen A. Douglas, at 35th street and the lake, has been saved by the intervention of Corporation Counsel Samuel E. Littleton and City Collector Morris Eller, it was learned yesterday.

Recently an assessment of $1,334 for widening the street fronting the monument in Woodlawn park was made. The site is said to be owned by the state, but the title rests with a memorial association incorporated in 1861 after the death of the "little giant." Judgment for the sale of the property to pay the delinquent assessment was asked along with a number of other delinquencies.

Collector Eller discovered the danger to the memorial and consulted the corporation counsel. His assistant, Leon Hornstein, drew up an opinion showing the plot exempt because it is being used for public purposes.

Leonard W. Volk, sculptor and close friend of Douglas, designed the memorial.

FOUNTAIN GIVES ITS LAST DISPLAY OF THE SEASON

The Buckingham Memorial fountain in Grant park last night gave its last major display in colors. At 10 o'clock workmen shut off the water power and began their work of covering the fountain and the statues of the four sea horses for the winter. Two weeks ago the fountain operation was extended for thirteen days by the south park board and Miss Kate Buckingham in response to many requests.

The Map of Gracious Living

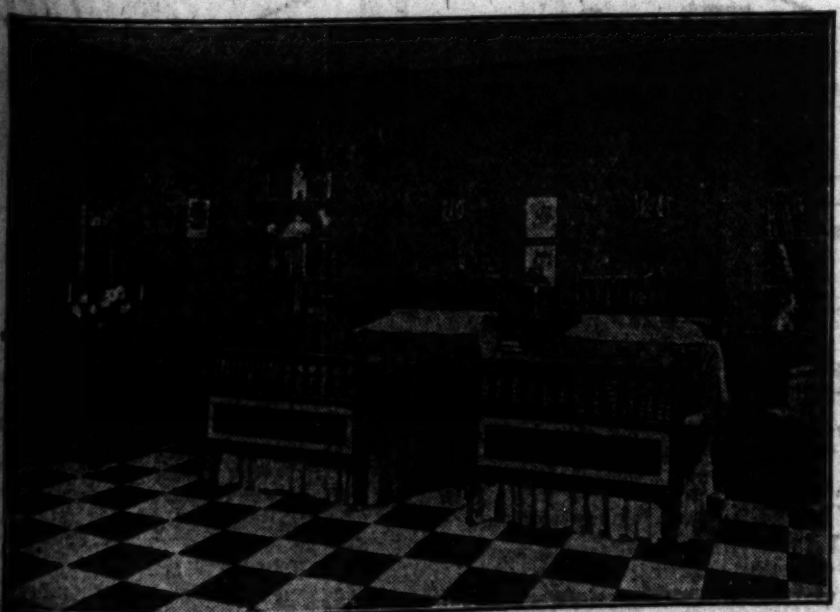

Charting the requests received by Delineator Home Institute from Delineator readers for help and guidance in matters of taste and style and beauty

When the Four Hundred becomes the Four Million

Provincial France inspired this delightful living-dining room planned by Delineator Home Institute. An upholstered seat against the wall and an extension table furnish ample space for eight people Delineator Home Institute's combination playroom-bedroom for the children has all the charm of a room for grown-ups. Yet metal furniture, gingham curtains and linoleum floor are designed for real service.

Cover Design by Helen Dryden

WHAT is happening in America today is that the Four Hundred has become the Four Million.

Literally millions of families all over the country today have the money and leisure to cultivate the art of gracious living that once was the exclusive privilege of a small number of families in a few big cities.

Delineator's recent experience is convincing proof of the ever-spreading sphere of taste and beauty and the widening boundaries of good style. On a great wall map in Delineator Home Institute innumerable bright-colored pins chart the many thousands of requests received of late from Delineator readers for help and guidance to a more gracious way of life.

Las Vegas, Texas, asks where it can buy French Provincial furniture. Boise, Idaho, wants to serve broccoli and artichokes. Bangor, Maine, is interested in better table silver—and Flagstaff, Arizona, asks how feminine Paris is doing its hair.

The art of gracious living is no longer limited to the greater cities. It has its votaries in every town and village from coast to coast. Here is the explanation of American women's insatiable demand for better goods and better styles. They want them. They can afford them. They mean to have them.

Delineator is written and edited to interest these women—and there are millions of them in America today. Women who swiftly sift the good styles from the bad, who are winning a deft assurance in all matters of taste and beauty, who manage their homes with that skillful competence that leaves ample leisure for the finer things of life.

For about a year now the improved Delineator has been giving its readers what they want and need and seek. As one woman tells another how splendidly Delineator serves her, the number of its readers steadily grows. And with each succeeding month Delineator circulation, with increasing accuracy, delineates the map of gracious living.

OCTOBER LINEAGE INCREASES 44%

DELINEATOR is the magazine that today most effectively influences the millions of American women who are demanding more interesting homes, finer merchandise and better styles. And Delineator's success in so widely extending the field for a well-styled magazine has opened a vast and profitable market to the manufacturers of well-styled goods of superior quality that are advertised in its pages.

ESTIMATE YEAR'S CHILD TOLL ON ROADS AT 7,384

Increase Over '26; Blame Placed on Drivers.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.
The American Road Builders' association estimates that 7,311 children were killed on the highways of the nation last year and if the same carelessness continues this year the toll will be 7,384.

The killing of children is 23.5 per cent of the total highway fatalities, but they infrequently command the prominent publicity of fatal accidents at grade crossings, which number approximately 2,800 a year. The grade crossing fatalities comprise only 31.8 per cent of the children killed by automobiles.

The extent of highway accidents is apparently appreciated by few, in the opinion of the road builders, who plan some remedies to be announced at their annual convention in Cleveland next Jan. 9-13.

Takes Sixth of Population.
The highway builders, after an extensive analysis of the figures of the Hoover conference and National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, assume that every death or serious injury affects directly or indirectly five persons. On that basis, the road builders assert that one-sixth of the nation's population has been affected by highway accidents in the last five years.

The number killed, injured, and the economic loss of highway accidents in the last five years, are tabulated by the road builders as follows:

Year	Killed	Injured	Loss
1923	19,500	507,000	$34,975,700
1924	22,000	578,000	$71,180,700
1925	23,500	600,000	$80,897,700
1926	24,400	732,000	$17,605,000
1927	25,300	739,000	$35,975,000

Total 114,870, 3,444,779 $239,634,100
The economic loss is estimated on the basis of conservative life liability of $5,000, personal injury $175, and property damage of $50 per accident. The road builders assert that they have not figured minor property damage such as bent fenders.

Much Due to Carelessness.
The constructors of highways accept the findings of the Connecticut state report on highway accidents and their causes as the most trustworthy available. Accordingly, they charge 90 per cent of the accidents to carelessness and recklessness, or 23,771 out of the estimated total of 25,903 last year.

Of this total last year it is asserted that 14,890 were pedestrians, nearly one-half of whom were children. Another interesting feature of the highway builders' statement is that more persons are injured between five and six in the afternoon than during any other hour of the day.

Blame on Auto Drivers.
On the question of responsibility the American road builders make several unusual statements. It is not the condition of the roads which causes the most accidents, nor fault of the pedestrians, but the chief blame lies, according to the road builders, with the man at the wheel of the machine.

They agree approximately with the national automobile chamber of commerce in charging that of the 25,303 deaths last year, motorists were the major factor in 11,183 killings, pedestrians in 10,805 deaths and about 3,314 fatalities.

AUTOS KILL 2 BOYS AT PLAY; DRIVERS HELD

Five Deaths in Day Raise Toll to 737.

Two boys died yesterday in Chicago of injuries suffered when they were struck by automobiles as they played in the streets.

One of them, unidentified, but apparently of Italian parentage and about ten years old, ran in front of a truck driven by Paul Masana, 700 South Tripp avenue, at Harrison and Sibley streets. Masana was taken in custody by the Desplaines street police and charged with manslaughter. The victim wore a brown suit and black shoes and stockings.

The other had been Jack Volino, 4 years old, 237 Milton street. He was fatally injured when he was struck in front of his home by a taxi cab driven by Benjamin Kaforski, 3923 Canal street. Kaforski was held.

Toll is Raised to 737.
These deaths and three others raised the Cook county motor toll since Jan. 1 to 737.

Charles Nelson, 65, of 7817 South Green street, was struck by a cab at 75th and Halsted streets and killed early yesterday morning. The driver, Charles Moore, 531 West 61st place, was held for the inquest.

Raymond Noyes, 34, of 4344 Algonquin avenue, was fatally injured when the automobile in which he was riding was struck by a Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul train on the Central avenue crossing. He was taken by the Irving Park police to the Montrose avenue hospital, where he died.

Aged Woman Is Killed.
Injuries suffered on Sept. 23, when she was struck by an automobile driven by O. S. Holtz, 1115 Belmont avenue, Forest Park, caused the death yesterday of Mrs. Lusia Tolman, 78, an inmate of the Baptist Old People's home at Maywood.

Miss Alice Heinkel, 28, of 3537 North Paulina street, was seriously injured last night when the automobile in which she was riding with her sister, Catherine, crashed into a post at Lincoln and Marshallfield avenues. Two automobiles collided at Adams and Market streets during the afternoon. Neither of the drivers, Joseph Picconia, 943 Elston avenue, and A. S. Roberts, 1111 Belmont avenue, were seriously injured, but one of the cars struck a mail box, ripped it from a post and hurled it nearly 100 feet.

FALLS OFF SCAFFOLD; DIES.
Eduard Schneider, 51, of 910 North Crawford street, died in the Jefferson Park hospital yesterday from injuries when he fell from a scaffold in the Apollo theater on Sept. 29.

NEW EPISCOPAL CHURCH OF THE ADVENT IS OPENED

Bishop Anderson and Others Hold 3 Services.

Bishop Charles F. Anderson, Dr. William C. DeWitt, and Dr. George Stewart were speakers at three services yesterday in connection with the dedication of the Episcopal church of the Advent at 2900 Logan boulevard.

"A man can actually accomplish more in his business by working six days in the week and going to church on Sunday than by trying to keep at his business seven days in the week," said Bishop Anderson.

The church received its first start towards a new building when $1,000 in pennies were gathered under the direction of the rector, the Rev. O. C. Stewart. The church cost $125,000 and is of stone. Next Sunday evening the new pipe organ will be dedicated.

Cooperation Predicted.

A time when Protestant churches will cooperate to prevent overlapping and the neglect of unchurched fields was predicted by Dr. Ernest F. Tittle, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Evanston, in an address last evening at the concluding exercises of the week of dedication of the First Congregational church, Evanston. The church was filled and most of the pastors of other Evanston churches were present.

The new church and Congregational house represent with grounds, buildings and furniture an expenditure of approximately $400,000.

Father Larrabee Trust.

A Father Larrabee Memorial Trust foundation of $250,000, sponsored by the vestry and pastor of the Episcopal Church of the Ascension, North La Salle and Elm streets, will be pushed to completion at once, according to announcements yesterday. Father Larrabee, whose memory is to be honored, was for 40 years a leader in Episcopal church circles, 25 years as rector of the Church of the Ascension, then as dean of Nashotah house, Wis., and later until his death in 1924, as associate of the Rev. William B. Stoekopf, rector of the church.

A contract has already been signed for 104 feet directly south of the church on which are three houses, one of which will be used as a parish house, one occupied by the Sisters of St. Anne and the other will be converted into a dormitory for homeless children. A general public appeal will be made for needed funds.

OFFICE WORKERS SEEK TO UNIONIZE INSURANCE FIRM

New York, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Ten thousand office workers employed by the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, of whom more than 7,000 are said to be girls, will be sought, it was announced today, as members of a "white collar" workers' union, which will seek membership throughout the insurance field.

The union is the Bookkeepers, Stenographers and Accountants' union, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. Leonard Bright, president of the organization, said it will seek to establish with the Metropolitan the principle of collective bargaining, the recognition of the union, the payment of a minimum wage of $21 a week instead of $12 a week, payment for overtime and appeal from summary dismissals.

Plane Takes Fire, Crashes; 3 Men and Women Killed

HONOLULU, T. H., Oct. 16.—(AP)—Holbrook Goodale, pilot, and two other men and a woman, were killed today when a commercial airplane fell into a case field near Lala, Oahu island. The occupants of the plane were taking photographs of the Mormon temple at Lala, when, witnesses said, the machine suddenly caught fire and crashed to earth. [The plane which crashed formerly was flown by Martin Jensen, winner of second prize in the Dole airplane race, from the United States to Hawaii last summer.]

DRISCOLL'S RUNS BEAT NEW YORK IN HARD BATTLE

BEANS (12). YANKS (0). Heavy rain, but a large crowd of 30,000 fans gathered at Wrigley field to see the Chicago Bears beat the New York Yankees, 12 to 0, in a hard battle. BY WILFRID SMITH.

Thirty thousand people jammed Wrigley field yesterday to see the Chicago Bears beat the New York Yankees, 12 to 0, in a hard battle. The Bears' Paddy Driscoll was the star, scoring three touchdowns and kicking five extra points. The game was a physical struggle, with many fouls and a riot at the gates after the final whistle.

Driscoll is Bears' Star.

The Bears won the game in the second quarter. Led by Paddy Driscoll, they showed the Yankees out of the spotlight and crashed over two touchdowns. Driscoll was the star, scoring three touchdowns and kicking five extra points.

Big Bill Senn carried the ball twice and the Bears registered their second touchdown. Then Driscoll set a record of some kind or other when he missed his second successive drop kick in the subsequent try for point.

Although New York failed to score, they outplayed the Bears in the first half. Figures tell the story. The Yankees made eight first downs in this half while the Bears made two. Twice they carried the ball down the field but a fighting Bear line stopped them on the threshold of a touchdown. McLeod, Baker, Fry and Maloney plunged and sprinted until their invasion was turned back on the Bears' three yard line.

The rush started in midfield after Hanny had lost 39 yards in a kicking duel with Maloney. McLeod plunged for a first down and after an incomplete pass Baker edged around the Bears' right end for first down on the six yard line in the corner of the field. Three plays gained three yards and a forward pass was incomplete over the goal line.

Grange, who remained out of the play in the third period, returned just before the fourth quarter started. But with a two touchdown handicap, the Yankees faced the impossible. Six times Grange carried the ball and three times he failed to gain, the Yankees' efforts setting 13 yards. The Yankees

Fumbles Pave Way for Week's Upsets in Gridiron Contests

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Failure of Minnesota to make a better showing against Indiana, victories by Chicago and Northwestern over Purdue and Ohio State, and the defeat of Pennsylvania by Penn State, and the tie game between Lafayette and West Virginia, all pointed to the fact that fumbles were the cause of many of the upsets in the week's football games.

Michigan had been expected to win from Wisconsin and the Wolverines rewarded their supporters with a decisive 14 to 0 victory. The strong Ames eleven, coached by Noel Workman, held Illinois to a 13 to 12 tie, while the strong Chicago eleven, coached by George S. Blumhofer, defeated the Northwestern team at Evanston, 13 to 0.

The games were marred in some cases by fumbling. Learning to hold the ball regardless of hard tackles or efforts of opponents to steal it is a football fundamental. Fumbles played an important part in the Chicago-Purdue, Michigan-Wisconsin and Minnesota-Indiana struggles.

Gophers Disappoint Fans. Minnesota's touted strength failed to assert itself in the Indiana game. The Hoosiers, who went down to defeat before Chicago on the previous Saturday, 13 to 0, showed a magnificent recovery in the game with the Gophers, 13 to 12. The Gophers, who were expected to win from Minnesota, were disappointed in the result.

That the Utah game was just the sort of a struggle needed to put Northwestern into the proper mental state to bring about a cherished victory over Ohio State was shown by the fact that the Northwestern team, which had been expected to win from Ohio State, was defeated, 13 to 0.

As a result Northwestern went out on the Ohio field and played a brand of football which makes it a formidable contender for the Western championship. The game was a physical struggle, with many fouls and a riot at the gates after the final whistle.

Maroons Show Improvement. Chicago turned in a pleasing 7 to 0 victory over Purdue. As expected, Coach Stagg sent a strong defensive eleven on the field and the Boilermakers' plays failed to make the yardage they did against Harvard. The Maroons showed vast improvement over their game with Indiana on the previous Saturday. They will continue to improve as the season progresses.

Cliff Woodbury Wins A. A. A. DIRT TRACK HONORS. Detroit, Mich., Oct. 16.—(AP)—Cliff Woodbury of Chicago won the American Automobile association dirt track championship race here today by taking the first two 40 mile heats and finishing third in the last heat for a total of 24 points.

George Souders of Indiana finished second in the first two heats and won the third for 23 points and second place. Wilbur Shaw of Detroit finished third and Dutch Bauman of Indianapolis finished fourth. Woodbury's best time was an average of 30 miles an hour for the first heat.

The point system used by the A. A. A. in scoring a heat race is based on placement alone.

and will be fit opponents for the remaining teams on the schedule. Coach Stagg deserves credit for the way he is moulding a strong eleven from mediocre material.

The value of an experienced punter to any football team was shown conclusively in the Michigan-Wisconsin game. It was the fine kicking of Louis Gilbert, the Wolverine half back, which not only kept Michigan's goal line out of danger but also placed the Maroon and Blue in positions to launch attacks on the Badger stronghold.

Wisconsin played hard, sound football, but its best was not good enough to combat the Michigan team, which is being coached for the first time by Tad Welman.

Iowa gave Wabash a decisive defeat to the tune of 13 to 0. This game should go a long way toward fitting the Hawkeyes for their important game with Minnesota at Minneapolis on Saturday.

Illinois' tie game with Ames should be a warning to the followers of the Orange and Blue. Ames is one of the strongest eleven in the Missouri Valley conference and had reached a high point of development last Saturday. Coach Zuppke undoubtedly has been pointing his team for the Northwestern game at Evanston on Saturday and it will be a far more powerful Illinois squad which takes the field against the Wildcats.

Notre Dame gave more evidence of its strength by winning over the Navy, 13 to 6. Although the Middles were the first to score, the western team fell into its stride as the struggle wore on and soon asserted its superiority. Notre Dame flashed a hard running attack, backed by forward passing, which this offense got under way and the plays were given the proper protection by the lineemen. The Navy was powerless to check it.

In the Missouri Valley conference Missouri retained the leadership in the championship race by winning over Washington at St. Louis, 13 to 6. Nebraska gave Grinnell a 13 to 0 triumph and Charles Bachman's Kansas Aggies won over Kansas, 13 to 0.

Penn State at Penn. On the Pacific coast, Southern California and Stanford played to a 13 to 12 tie while California, which will meet both Stanford and Southern California later in the season, won from Oregon, 13 to 0. Washington was victor over Montana, 13 to 0.

Penn State's victory over Pennsylvania, 20 to 0, was not wholly unexpected by followers of eastern football. In the past the State eleven always has been a barrier in the path of the Quakers' quest for the eastern title. Penn State, coached by Hugo Besdek, the former Chicago warrior, always plays its best football against the Ben Franklin and has won many struggles with an inferior eleven.

West Virginia, which had been beaten previously by Pittsburgh, 13 to 6, held the strong Lafayette team to a 13 to 12 tie. To close followers of the game in the east this was the big surprise of the day. Lafayette generally was considered one of the foremost contenders for the eastern title.

Pitt Shows Power. Judging from its showing against Drake, Pittsburgh must be given plenty of consideration when a probable eastern champion is mentioned. Pitt won from the Den Moines eleven, 13 to 0, and showed so much football that it will take a mighty swing outfit to beat it.

RED STARTS ON 20 YARD RUN

Red Grange dashed through the Bear line, reversed his field, and covered twenty yards before he was brought down. This was in the second quarter of the New York-Bears football game yesterday at Wrigley field which the Bears won, 12 to 0, thereby retaining the lead of the National league. Grange averaged five yards each time he handled the ball.

Almquist Adds Privacy Is Requisite for Successful Channel Swim

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.] New York, Oct. 16.—Distressing news is conveyed by the dispatches from London stating that Dr. Dorothy Logan, the physician who was paid $5,000 a few days ago for swimming the English channel by boat in better time than a steamboat swim on the newspapers, now has admitted that she did swim it by boat. This, of course, constitutes a technical violation of the rules for this event and the good doctor has returned the $5,000 to the London newspaper which awarded the money.

Swimming the channel by boat under certain conditions is regarded as an ordeal, to be sure, but never as an athletic event, and far from awarding cash prizes to individuals who do this, it is customary to charge them 40 shillings apiece, including luncheon, if any. Children are barred by boat in better time than the good doctor.

Strict Privacy Preferred. Being familiar with the haphazard conditions under which some swimmers take their departure from the rocks at Cape Gris Nez, France, and the burlesque propensities of the professional trainers and witnesses who frequent the French littoral just there, it is occasionally made bold to suggest that some of the private successful channel swimmers might have been less successful if they had been less private. It was especially skeptical about the success of M. Georges Michel, the portly Parisian pastry cook who walked out of the water on the English side one morning shortly after Dr. Logan's swim announcing that he had just swum the channel in eleven hours and something. M. Michel is such a sedate gentleman in the water and he had faded quickly in so many previous attempts that he was just a shadow when he took the bath in the bath tub, said Madame Sion.

And last summer when I mentioned Monsieur Michel's great swim to Madame Sion and some of the other Europeans who had tried to swim at Lake George, New York, they laughed impudently. "His wife, she have to throw him the life preserver when he take the bath in the bath tub," said Madame Sion.

Michel Lacked One Thing. When Dr. Logan was training at Cape Gris Nez, Monsieur Michel made his

Card Gridders Beaten, 13 to 0, by Green Bay

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

Green Bay, Wis., Oct. 16.—[Special.]—Outclassing the Cardinals at every stage of the game the Green Bay Packers upset Guy Chamberlain's eleven here today by a score of 13 to 0. A crowd of 8,000 witnessed the game.

After being held scoreless in the opening period the Packers, marched down the field early in the second stanza and Kotol scored on a trick play. In the fourth quarter the Bay's air drive took them to the four yard line from where Lewellyn knuckled through for another score. Red Dunn, former Cardinal, who played a great game against his old club, added the point after touchdown. Lineup:

ried seven passes, but only one, Grange to Tryon, for 3 yards, was completed. Even so, New York marched down the field for 48 yards before the Bears held them for down.

Grange's ball carrying record in the first half was better. He got away for one run of 20 yards, recovered one of Marks' kicks that the Bears had blocked, and ran 25 yards before he was brought down. He averaged 5 yards each time he handled the ball.

Yanks Make 15 First Downs

New York accomplished 15 first downs to the Bears' seven. Two of these were from passes and a like number from penalties. The Yankees tried 21 passes, completed four and had two intercepted. Holding a lead, the Bears did not resort to the aerial game. Driscoll threw two passes, one of which Grange intercepted and the other was grounded. Twice the New York linemen threw Paddy for losses when pass plays were called.

The physician who attended Grange after the game, said last night that the leg injury was not serious. He is expected to be ready to play next Sunday.

Privacy First Requisite for Channel Swim

ming name used by Dr. Logan, was a topic of unfailing merriment among the burglarious trainers, professional witnesses and private swimmers on the Gris Nes shore when I was there. They told of a time when a lady using the name of Mona McLeellan made a private steamboat swim to England, claimed a prize, and was thwarted of the cash award only by the untimely revelations of a sailor on the steamboat, who said he had not been paid sufficiently for preserving the privacy so necessary to success. This happened several seasons ago, so it would appear that the good doctor had to make a mug of the public twice in order to disillusion it once more, so dumb is the public by nature and conviction.

The revelation should help to restore the venerable English channel to its wonted position as a game and doughty opponent for the best of swimmers. It has been conquered often of late, but it is safe to conclude that the channel has been fouled many times.

LONDON LAUGHS IT OFF

(Copyright, 1927, by The New York Times.)

LONDON, Oct. 16.—English sportsmen today are trying to laugh off Dr. Dorothy Logan's channel swim, which is characterized now as the biggest hoax perpetrated since Capt. Kopenick called out the Kaiser's Potsdam guards.

Dr. Logan's confession that she did not actually swim the channel now is explained as a "fake to end fakes," but her admission leaves the press and patriots far out on a limb, because all swallowed the story of her accomplishment, look, line and sinker, except old Jake Wolfe, who told The Times correspondent the next day that it was a fake.

Airily describing the details of the fake for the morning papers, the would-be champion said, "I walked into the sea at Cape Gris Nes at 7:40 p. m. Monday, swam a few miles and then was taken aboard one of the escorting boats at 9:30 p. m. I reentered the water at 6:30 the following morning in full view of the South Foreland lighthouse, swam strongly toward the beach and landed."

McLarnin Punishes Gym Foes with Hard Blows.

Jimmy McLarnin, the California lightweight, and Louis Kid Kaplan of Meriden, Conn., principals in the windup of Promoter James C. Mullen's boxing show at the Coliseum tomorrow night, yesterday appeared at the gymnasium with the largest crowd which ever saw fighters train at the Mullen gymnasium.

More than 500 jammed into the gymnasium and were rewarded with a display of vicious fighting. McLarnin, who has been made a 6 to 5 choice over Kaplan, dropped a sparring partner with a short left hook and had another bad way when the bell was sounded. It was Jimmy's last day of boxing, and he showed he is ready for his Chicago debut.

Kaplan did not go after his partners as savagely. Louis was content to box for five rounds, and then called it a day. He showed speed and a clever left hand. His footwork was pleasing, and his slipping of punches about the best seen in Chicago since the days of Benjie Leonard.

Light Workouts Today. McLarnin and Kaplan will not box today. They will engage in light gymnasium workouts in order to make 135 pounds at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Kid Lencho, the bantamweight from an Antonio, Tex., who meets Archie Bell of Brooklyn in the ten round semi-windup, gave an interesting exhibition. The southerner tore into his sparring partners and swung punches from all angles. Bell boxed four rounds, but did not extend himself.

My Sullivan of St. Paul, who is scheduled to meet Howard McLain of Louisville, Ky., in another ten round, unlimbered and had one of his sparring partners on the verge of a knockout.

Malloy Fight Show Tonight. Babe Ruth of Louisville, Ky., and Frankie Garcia of California will meet in the windup of Mike Malloy's show at White City tonight. They will box ten rounds to a decision and weigh 135 pounds at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Both are hard right hand hitters.

Henry Cullen of South Chicago and Bob Peters, the local flyweight, will meet in the eight round semi-windup at 113 pounds. This fight rates as the best on the card and a knockout may result.

The other fights will bring together George Mussey and Morris Gransberg, Harry Delmar and Eddie Law, and Tommy Williams and George Pine. The last bout will go on at 8:15 o'clock.

Walter George, secretary, is representing the Illinois commission at the annual convention of the National Boxing association, which convened yesterday at Toledo, O.

Italian Middleweights Fight 15 Round Draw. MILAN, Oct. 16.—[U.P.]—Mario Bosio and Leone Iacovacci, battling for the middleweight championship of Italy, fought a 15 round draw tonight.

MOON MULLINS—HATS OFF TO MR. HOWL

Lake Forest University Has Light but Speedy Squad of Gridders

BY HARLAND ROHM.
A 155-pound guard and a 197-pound quarter back aren't extraordinarily rare, but when their teammates aren't much bigger it does make an amazingly light team. That is Lake Forest University's football team this year. The line averages 160 pounds and the backs 154.

Naturally, with such weights the team can't depend much on line crashing plays to gain ground, but of necessity must run the ends, pass and turn loose plays which go some place else than the spot they start for. The Gold Coasters are doing that, despite the fact the majority of the first string men are sophomores.

Last year the Red Devils played three scoreless ties, won two games and lost three. They have equaled last year's winning record already, beating Hildale college of Michigan, 12 to 0, in the first game and Chicago Y college, 6 to 0, in the second. That game was too close for comfort, however, as it was only in the last three minutes of play "Tilly" Martin got through the Y's line on an off tackle buck and ran 83 yards for the touchdown. In their third game of the year last Friday they held Ripon to a scoreless tie.

Martin Punt and Passes. With a good part of the attack built on passing, of course, every back throws and receives the ball. The best of the tossers is this same Thomas Martin of the 83 yard run, and what makes him doubly effective on passes from punt formation is that he also does the punting, averaging nearly 50 yards. He's really an exceptional pass thrower, has the ability to gather them in on a dead run, and is a good defensive man. He's a sophomore who prepped at Deerfield-Shields high school.

Martin's running mate at the other half back is John Burk, nephew of Judge Haas of the Chicago Municipal court. He was on some teams as all-city quarter back when he played for Parker high school, and hits the line hard. He's fast and drop kicks well, but his specialty is the kick-off.

The regular quarter back job is open as yet, with Lester Stang and Faust Perazzo, a freshman, in a nip and tuck argument. Stang, 171 pounds of nerve and fight, is a good open field runner, fair passer and drop kicker, and fast. He's a brilliant student academically, and studies football with the same keen mind. Perazzo is a fine prospect, with just a touch of football greenness. Blessed with speed and unusual coordination he darts in and out of holes like a ferret, and he adds to that place kicking, fair passing, punting, and fine drive.

McCall Made Into a Full Back. A half back of last year, Kenneth McCall, has been made over into a full back this year. A rugged chap, with powerful legs, he drives hard into the line, and once he gets under way is more than usually shifty in running ends.

Neal Dickson, a 200 pound husky, who has starred at tackle, but was tried out as a full back in the Hildale game, where he went over with a bang, is lost to the squad for most of the season. With almost everything a football player needs, some extra curricular activities led the faculty to put him out of school activities for a month.

The essential thing about the line is its lack of weight and the fact the boys try to make up what they lack in beef by aggressiveness. Possibly the captain is an example and an inspiration. This lad, Roy Bjorklund, has played in every football game since he entered school as a freshman and in all but one or two has been in every minute. Consider that and then the fact he plays guard and weighs 155 pounds.

Bjorklund plays left guard and he's the only senior in the line. He's a slender youth, but open holes with aggressive drive. Reuben England, at the other guard, and incidentally, from the same high school as Bjorklund in St. Paul, is a little heavier but a blocker type. He stars on the defense, for, while a play may go over him, it's not likely to get through him. These two guards are the best of the linemen.

Pitcher Tries for Center. Center is still an open question with Herbert Ferner of Parker high school and Peter Mayer of Proviso working for it. Ferner is the bigger, a reliable passer, and a hard tackler, but not inclined to overwork. Mayer is a scrappy chap, with big, powerful hands, which he uses effectively.

Four more sophomores hold down the wings of the line. George Hagaman of Rockford and Roy Squiers of Parker high school, are the tackles. Hagaman, aggressive as they make 'em, is strong defensively but green offensively, while Squiers is a youngster, tall, somewhat awkward and powerful, with a lot of bulldog determination to get through.

Chester Rostowski, another Proviso lad, plays left end. Tall and rangy, he grabs off passes easily and is a fair

Georgetti to Meet Walthour in Match Race

Franko Georgetti, Italian bike star and motor paced champion of America, will make his first appearance since winning the title when he clashes with Bobby Walthour in a five mile motor paced match race, best two out of three heats, at the Coliseum Saturday night. This race will be the outstanding event on a program of professional and amateur races which will be staged as an appetizer for the six day race which starts at 3 o'clock Sunday night with fifteen teams competing.

Georgetti is the first foreign rider who ever won the motor paced title and his victory was gained after a hard fight which lasted all summer. His annexation of the title was especially noteworthy as this was his first season behind the motorcycle.

Carl Stockholm, Chicago's popular six day rider, will meet Gastone Belloni of Italy in an Australian pursuit race. They will start from opposite sides of the track and race until one rider catches the other. A one mile four cornered match will bring together Reggie McNamara, the "Iron Man"; Cecil Walker, all around champion of America; Freddie Spencer, former titleholder, and Alphonse Goosen, rugged Belgian rider. The other professional races carded call for a half mile handicap and a five mile open race, while the amateurs will ride a half mile handicap and a one hour team race.

MORTON TAKES 25 MILE BIKE HANDICAP RACE

James Morton won the annual Henry playground 25 mile handicap club road race yesterday, competing against 21 of his club mates. Morton had 33:45 minutes handicap, which enabled him to cover the distance in 1:02:32 1/2, one minute ahead of Roy Ekholm, who was riding on 33:45 handicap.

Morton displayed the same skill yesterday as he did two weeks ago when he won the Elgin race. Morton rode a conservative race for the first sixteen miles and then pedaled his way to victory in the stretch.

Roy Ekholm came from behind to nose out Paul Goosen for second place. Goosen had a 33:45 minute handicap.

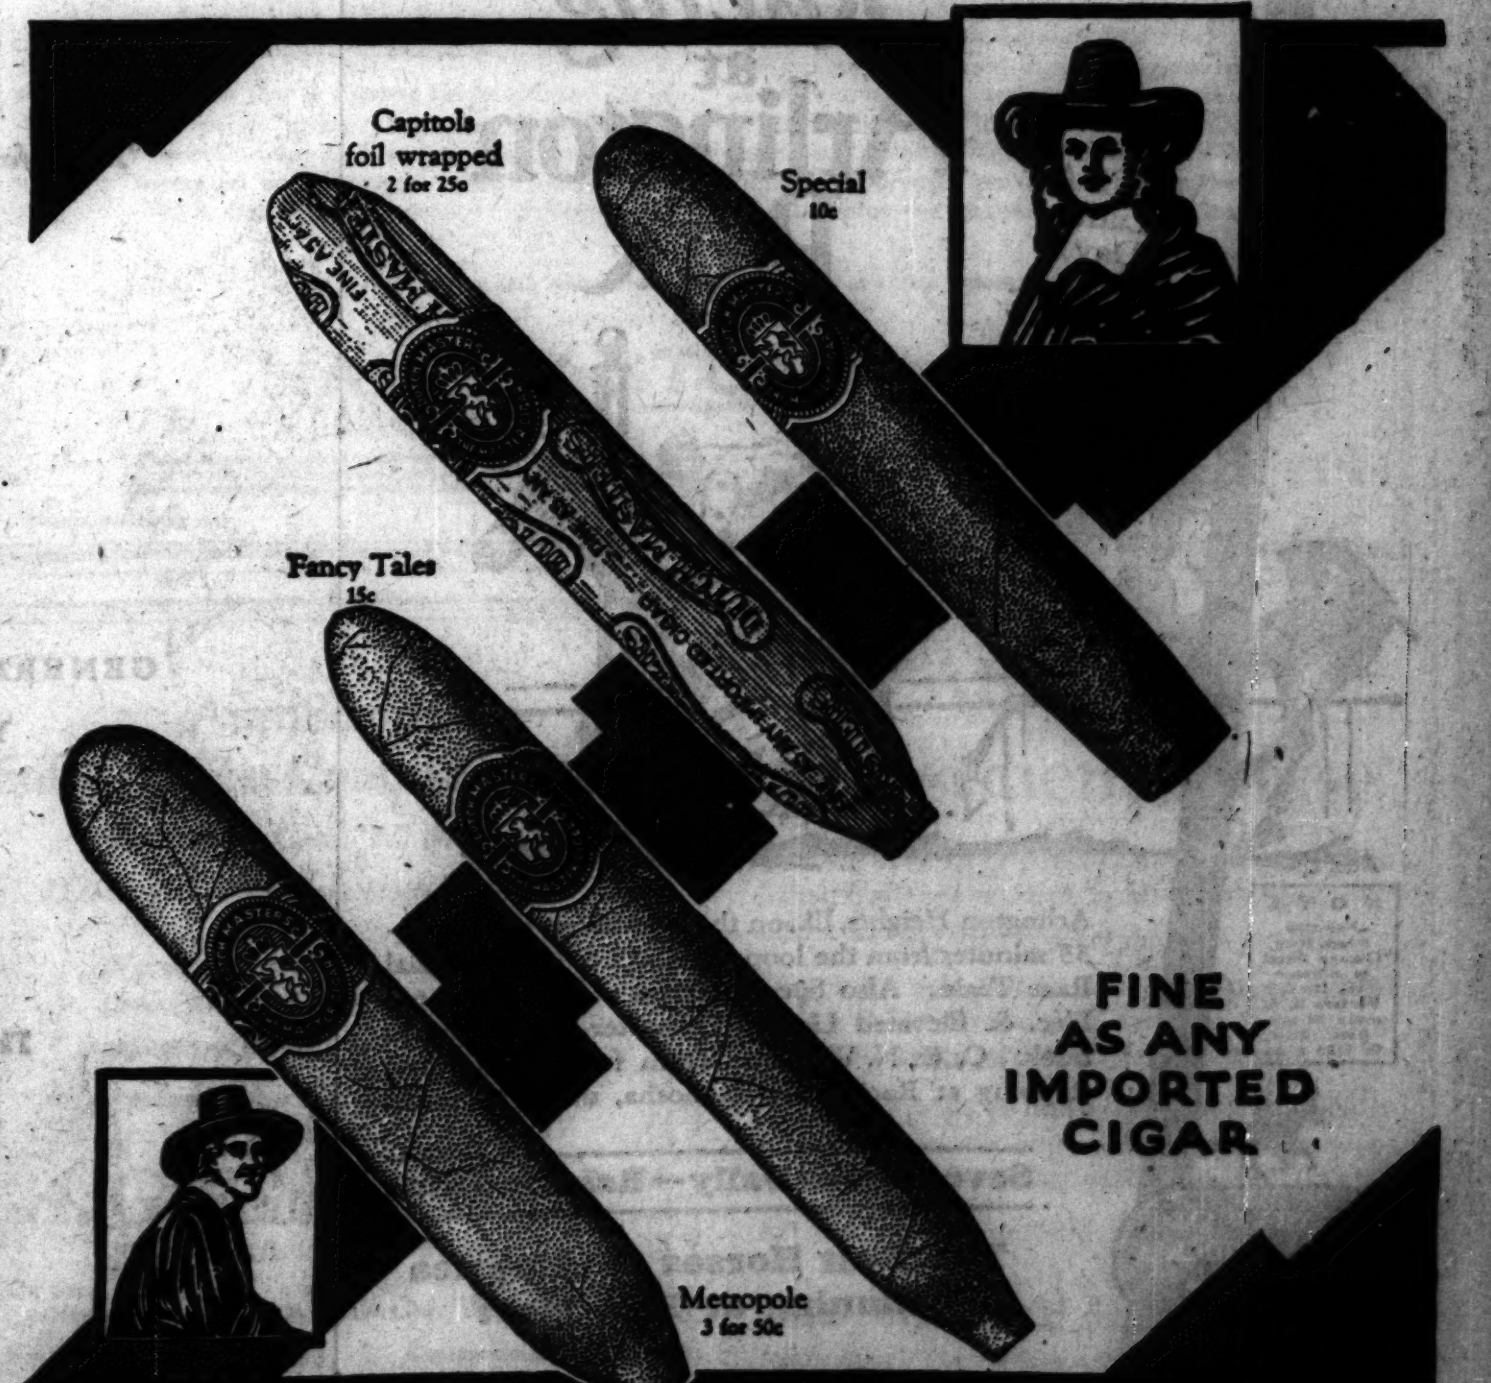

Augie Benson, a scratch rider, was fourth and his time was 1:00:49 1/2.

NEW YORK WEEKLY STOCKS

AMERICAN BUYING
GIVES BUOYANCY
TO LONDON MART

BY SIDNEY CAVE.

(Copyright 1927 by The Chicago Tribune.)
LONDON, Oct. 16.—American buying of British securities was a noticeable feature of last week's business in the London stock exchange. Quite substantial buying of English railroad stocks for the American account, also leading industries such as Courtauld, Gramophones and Dunlop, was in evidence.

A heavy general market business is predicted for the coming week. Bettering monetary conditions are responsible for the persistent support of high class investment securities, while confidence is growing regarding the probability of keeping the present bank rate until the end of the year.

Colossus Again Features.

Extensive happenings in the Calcutta market again provided the sensation of the week, the stock slumping violently. All the industries, such as Courtauld, Gramophones and Dunlop, was in evidence.

The gilt edge market was strong, as predicted for the coming week. Bettering monetary conditions are responsible for the persistent support of high class investment securities, while confidence is growing regarding the probability of keeping the present bank rate until the end of the year.

The Portrait Invisible

BY JOSEPH GOLLOMB

Corcoran, owner of a New York gambling house, and two crooks, Slim and Butch, frequent visitor, known as The Goldfish, who is accused of being a stool pigeon. The Goldfish denies the charges, turns the tables by revealing he "has the goods" on them, and dismisses them with an ultimatum—they are to be always at his disposal.

On the following Monday Judge Craig does not appear for the opening of a famous case. His younger brother, Bruce, known as the prodigy judge, history repeats a detective's suggestion that there may be a woman in the case, even when it is hinted she may be a sister of the judge. The Goldfish, a student in psycho-analysis, has the murdered body of Robert Craig in a suburban cottage, the latest of which is said to be a young woman named Kate Randall. The Goldfish announces he is going to live in the house in order to study the character of the suspected, missing woman. He has her books and other details of her home. Bruce urges that the investigation be handled, even though he has begun to fear it will involve his brother in scandal. He offers a reward of $200,000 for the arrest and conviction of the murderer.

INSTALLMENT XX. THE MASTER'S VOICE.

It was the night porter of a sailors' lodging house on one of New York's mean streets who had answered The Goldfish's telephone call.

"Get Dunneen."

"He's asleepin'," the porter said resentfully. "Everybody's asleepin'."

"Get him!"

The porter recognized a tone of authority and, grumblingly leaving the night porter, went to the room. It must have cost The Goldfish a plenty of money to Corcoran, dignified even in pajamas and bathrobe, came to the telephone.

"Who is it?" Corcoran asked.

"Corcoran?"

"Dunneen," Corcoran growled. "Who are you?"

The Goldfish disregarded the question. "There's some one lurking outside your cottage. Who is it?"

Corcoran glared at the receiver as if it were the instrument itself that had asked the preposterous question.

"And you get me out of my sleep to— I don't know?"

"Where are Slim and Butch?"

"Sleeping."

"Get them!"

Corcoran's face yellowed with anger. His throat worked, but he swallowed his rage. Without a word he too obeyed and left. Reentering his room at the end of the corridor, he opened the door leading into the next room and entered the light. For a sailor's lodging house it was a tidy enough place, with two beds in the room.

On one of them Butch lay snoring. From the other Slim started up at the light. His green eyes questioned Corcoran.

"He wants you two on the phone," Corcoran said shortly.

Slim saw questions would be vain. Throwing a silk dressing gown over his pajamas he got into bedroom slippers and turned to the door. With his hand he indicated the stentorian sleeper.

"You'll have to wake him yourself, Corky! He's full of hootch and hop," Corcoran started toward Butch. "Better take his gat though before you try it. You know his temper."

Corcoran stuck his hand under Butch's pillow and found an automatic of enormous proportions. From Butch's coat hanging over a chair he took out a blackjack and put both of them into the pockets of his bathrobe. Then he grasped Butch by both shoulders and shook him powerfully.

It took a lot of shaking before Butch, with a preliminary animal growl, opened his heavy eyes. Corcoran kept on shaking him. Stupidly he stared up at Corcoran until partial realization was shaken into him.

Then he took hold of Corcoran's hands and, flinging them off his shoulders, turned and dropped off to sleep.

Corcoran snatched the pillow from under him. Butch slept on.

Corcoran went to the washstand, poured out a glass of cold water, went to the bed, and dashed it full into Butch's face. Gasping and sputtering, Butch sat up and wiped the blur from before his vision. Finally his eyes focused on Corcoran and the empty glass in his hand. Comprehension came and Butch began to choke with wrath.

"He wants you on the phone," Corcoran said curtly.

"Beat it!" Butch roared. "Beat it, before I—"

He looked where he expected to find his automatic. Finding it gone, he reached for his coat for his blackjack. He sat up with rage at finding that, too, had been snatched away. He snatched the rising fire and with a warning growl he sank back to his pillow and, unaffected by its suddenness, dropped off again.

Without taking his eyes off Butch, Corcoran sat down, saying to Slim: "Go and tell him."

He sat in the chair, his look on Butch, but really submerged in silent thought. He had ample time to think before Slim reentered the room.

"He wants Butch on the phone. He gives us one minute to get him there," Corcoran's lips moved. Then he said:

"Tell him it's late more than that to drag him there."

Slim's eyes widened with what he had to say.

"He said that if he didn't hear from Butch within the minute he would drop you and me, Corky, a quarter of an hour in which to get out of here!"

"What's he mean?" Corcoran snapped.

"Trouble, I'm afraid!" Slim was nervous now. "Hurry! What'll I tell him?"

Corcoran rose and took out Butch's automatic.

"Tell him I want another minute."

Slim hurried out. Revolver in one hand, Corcoran seized Butch's grizzled face with the other and jerked his head off the pillow. Torn again from sleep, Butch glared with his bloodshot eyes. This time with one bound he was out of bed and pivoted for a smash at Corcoran's jaw.

The sight of his own revolver stopped the blow in midcareer. But it did not stop Butch from flinging himself back on his bed and going to sleep again. Corcoran glared down in perplexity, weighing the rising fire and with a warning growl he sank back to his pillow and, unaffected by its suddenness, dropped off again.

As he stood there pondering what next to do, Slim came, this time running.

"Corky!" he panted. "He's phoning the bulls that Butch is here! Said he was out and me to go to his place at once unless we—his words—want to sit up with Butch! What'll we do?"

For seconds of concentrated debate Corcoran had no answer. Then with a look that left Butch to his fate he ran out of the room.

The speed of his action made words unnecessary. Slim tore off his dressing gown and, grudging every instant of time, began putting his street clothes on over his pajamas. Corcoran was already in his overcoat; in the next room when Slim snatched up his makintosh and a small valise and followed Corcoran on the run down the stairs; then out into the howling deluge.

Across the street they ran to where the shadows were getting densest. Slipping warehouse walls, they hurried, casting backward glances. Even as they looked from around the next corner a big closed automobile skidded completely about with the violence with which it made the turn into the street. The driver got control and shot it in the direction of the sailors' lodging house.

From the car, out of both doors, sprang half a dozen men who made for the house Corcoran and Slim had just left. Around the corner another car skidded, and another group of men joined those now ringing and hammering on the front door.

Corcoran and Slim peered from behind the angle of the corner house. Corcoran's breath was deeply labored, but it came still harder when several minutes later the men issued from the house again.

For in their midst, his hands clamped at the wrists, his body half clad and exposed to the storm, was Butch. Even from where they stood the two men could see from his appearance that there had been a battle before he was released. He was pitched into one of the automobiles and five men climbed in with him.

Then the two cars left.

With heads bent to the storm Corcoran and Slim splashed off without a word. For blocks they trudged, hardly able to breathe. They halted at the door of a small garage. Slim pressed a button. In a surprisingly short time the garage door slid open, a man of the gangster type stuck out his head and recognizing the visitors, admitted them.

They were evidently schooled to waste few words, these men who worked with Corcoran.

"A gateway?" the man asked.

"No," said Slim. He followed Corcoran into a black sedan that stood waiting with its nose pointed for the door. "But up to Paiman in a hurry!"

Corcoran uttered an imprecation at the weather and necessity; but got into a sleep lined leather coat, climbed to the seat of the car, warmed up the motor, got clear of the garage and drove the two men off north at a speed that made the car slide as often as it rolled. An occasional street lamp shot the beam of light through the streaming door pane.

GASOLINE ALLEY—AVERY IS NOT SO CONSERVATIVE

For 2 Reasons You Will Enjoy 'Harp in Hock'

They Are Mr. Schildkraut

"HARP IN HOCK."

Produced by Metro-Goldwyn.
Directed by Edward Hoffman.
Presented at the State-Lake.

THE CAST:

Abrams Rodolph Schildkraut
The Girl Beaulieu Love
The Doctor Joseph Suther
The Vixen May Robson

By Mae Tins.

Good morning!

The "harp," I guess you are thinking, is an instrument on which to make sweet music. And you have probably got it all figured out that it is in hock because its poor but proud owner needs money?

All wrong. Said harp is one small, grubby, freckled Irish spooon, fresh from the quid no who, after a lonely trip to America to join his mother, finds that poor lady with candles at her head and feet, and is adopted by a kindly old psychobrook.

Timmy isn't in hock at all, but venomous neighbors who owe the old man money and hate him because of that fact, insist to the effect that the boy is being kept in duress vile to work out debts owed by his mother. They try to part the two and almost succeed.

That's what "Harp in Hock" is about.

The remains of Beaulieu Love and Joseph Schildkraut, impersonating, respectively a free dispensary worker and doctor, which crops up intermittently, is rather superfluous to the story's needs, though not displeasing to watch.

The film as a whole is rather an encouraging bit of butter-and-egg and you will enjoy love Rodolph Schildkraut as Abrams and Junior Coghlan as the "harp." They do the same sort of work that made their roles memorable in "The Country Doctor."

About This Picture Now:

The Scenery Is Beautiful

Produced by F. B. O.
Directed by Alfred Hitchcock.
Presented at the Majestic Theatre.

THE CAST:
Clifton Philbrook Warner Baxter
Allie Van Orsd Sharon Lynn
Mick Morley William Wood
Pierce Bechard Byron Douglas
Darius Philbrook Charlotte Stevens
Maiden Charlie Thomas

THE COWARD.

"The Coward" shows Warner Baxter impersonating a 'he-do-well' of good birth and great wealth who "comes back."

He's a weakling till his soul is swept by a gust of adventure. Then he starts out to show the world—and the girl—and makes good handsomely.

The best thing about this film, which hasn't much to do with the gorgeous scenery of the Canadian northwest (photographed undoubtedly in California). But it's marvelous just the same, and the film, played against its curtain are the finest the picture has to offer.

Mr. Baxter does his best with a role that hasn't much to offer. So does Sharon Lynn, as the girl in the case, a slimy good looking and exceedingly peevish.

The photography is fine and the direction is plenty good enough for the story—which is from the pen of Arthur Stringer.

See you tomorrow!

CLOSINGS.

YOUTH OPENS BANK ACCOUNTS IN 700 CITIES

Racine, Wis., Oct. 16.—[Special].—Flagpole riders, champion coffee drinkers, and other ideas for publicity gave to Paul Monroe, 24, of Duluth, a thought which is not only unique but profitable.

Monroe started out four years ago to open a savings account in 1,000 banks in 1,000 cities. When he finished drying dishes in a restaurant here he accepted the $1 wage and hurried to a bank.

"That makes bank account No. 700," Monroe said, proudly.

Since September, 1923, he has traveled through 31 states, pitching hay, hauling coal, digging ditches, and doing housework. He spends nothing for transportation, obtaining free rides from motorists.

When he obtains 1,000 of the $1 accounts he will keep them active and use his capital to establish himself in business in his home town, Monroe declared.

Dr. D. A. McBurney, 83, Dean at Morningside, Dies

St. Louis City, Mo., Oct. 16.—[AP].—Dr. David Alfred McBurney, 83, dean of the extension department of Morningside college and one of the most widely known Methodist Episcopal pastors in Iowa, died today. WOMEN!

Any woman can end recurrent organic pains without the use of narcotics. A formula called Feminez has made this statement possible. Medical opinion supports this statement, and the experience of thousands of women. Feminez is a complete and perfect solution of the problem that confronts so many women every month. The painful part of these days is now needless. Feminez means absolute freedom from all suffering—no matter how acutely you are accustomed to suffer at such time!

Feminez does not interfere with any normal function; it does render you immune from pain. Try to believe it, or see for yourself. To order another painful period is folly!

Almost any drugstore has Feminez, and it costs a quarter.

AVOID DIZZY SPELLS

Never well. Always tired and fagged out. Beauty tossed away by neglect. To be beautiful and to keep youth the system must be free from poisonous backwash of constipation which often causes dizzy spells. For 20 years, Dr. F. M. Edwards gave his patients, in place of calomel, a compound of vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. Known by their olive color. They free the system of poisons that ravage health, energy, beauty.

You need never have hollow complexion, dull eyes, coated tongue, throbbing headaches—all signs that your bowels are clogged, liver is torpid. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly. They act smoothly and without griping. How much better you'll feel and look! Everywhere, wise men and women who know the value of good health take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. All drugstores, 15c. 30c and 60c.
